—Majorities In Both Branches Shaky—

GOP Grabs Slender Control Of Congress

Republicans Win 49 Seats In Senate, Including 'Independent' Morse; House Total Upped To 219

WASHINGTON (AP)—Control of both houses of Congress passed into Republican hands Wednesday night, but by slender majorities which failed to match the electoral landslide which swept Dwight D. Eisenhower into the White House.

With only nine House contests undecided, the GOP had elected 219, or one more than the necessary majority of the 435-member House. Democrats elected 206.

The undecided races appeared about evenly divided between the two parties.

At this point in all-but-complete tabulation of Tuesday's balloting, Republicans had scored 23 House gains while the Democrats had overturned six Republicans for a net GOP gain of 17.

The surge of the Eisenhower sweep carried Republicans to a hairline edge in the Senate when Rep. Charles Potter, legless war veteran, late Wednesday upset Democratic Sen. Blair Moody to win Michigan's junior Senate seat for the GOP.

Potter's victory gave the Republicans 49 seats if Sen. Morse of Oregon is counted and left the Democrats with 47. This exactly reversed the Democratic 49-47 edge in the present Congress.

Forty-nine is a bare majority. But the degree of Republican control was obscured by the tantalizing question posed by Oregon's insurgent Sen. Wayne Morse.

Morse, a Republican, bolted that party during the campaign and threw his support to Gov. Adlai Stevenson for the presidency.

Tie Is Possible

As a Republican "independent"—as he now describes himself—Morse could throw the Senate into a 48-48 tie by voting with the Democrats.

In a situation of this sort, the tie-breaking vote is cast by the Senate's presiding officer—who after next Jan. 20 will be the Republican vice president, Richard Nixon.

The chairmanship of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee falls to Rep. Dan Reed of New York, a sharp critic of Truman administration tax policies.

Rep. Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, foe of economic controls, comes into line for the House Banking Committee chairmanship.

Eight incumbent senators were beaten in Tuesday's voting, four Republicans and four Democrats.

GOP victims were Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Dwight D. Eisenhower's campaign manager before the Chicago national convention; James P. Kem of Missouri; Harry Cain of Washington and Zales Ecton of Montana.

Democratic losers were Ernest McFarland of Arizona, the majority leader; the veteran Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming; William Benton of Connecticut; and Thomas Underwood of Kentucky.

The GOP Senate "class of 1946," which won a big victory when the Republicans took over Congress temporarily six years ago, fared very well in its second test at the polls.

McCarthy Wins

Only three members lost—Cain, Ecton and Kem. Eleven others were victorious including Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana, both targets of heavy Democratic fire this year.

New Democratic faces in the Senate will include Stuart Symington of Missouri, former Air Force secretary and administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.; Price Daniel, Texas attorney general; and four youthful members of the present House: John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Albert Gore of Tennessee, Henry Jackson of Washington and Mike Mansfield of Montana.

New GOP faces will include former Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska.

Poet W. H. Auden Arrives In Lincoln For Address At NU

A celebrated Anglo - American poet and editor, W. H. Auden, arrived Wednesday night for an address at University of Nebraska Convocation at 11 a.m. Thursday in the Student Union ballroom.

Auden, who received the King's Gold Medal from England's King George VI in 1937, will describe how his ideas are developed, and how literary influences have shaped his career.

An author of such works as "The Age of Anxiety, 1947," and "Collected Poems, 1945," Auden has written the libretto for the new Igor Stravinsky opera, "The Rake's Progress," to be produced next spring by the Metropolitan Opera.

At Least 4 Incumbents Are Beaten

Mail Vote Is Necessary To Decide 3 Other Races

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Four incumbents of the State Legislature appeared defeated Wednesday on the basis of unofficial returns and in three other cases the mail vote will be required to determine whether the old members will be returned. In one other contest the two candidates are running neck and neck.

Thomas Adams, Lincoln, representing the 19th district was defeated by Howard Britt and Sen. H. G. Wellensiek Grand Island, is trailing Joseph Martin, young Grand Island attorney, as representative of the 30th district.

Sen. C. R. Lindgren, Campbell, with four precints missing was 600 votes behind William A. McHenry in the 32nd district. Sen William Hern, Chadron, with eight precints missing, was 2,288 votes behind J. Monroe Bixler.

Either trailing or leading by less than 100 votes were Sen. Charles Wilson, Norfolk, who led William Purdy by 51 votes in the 15th district; Sen. R. H. Kreutz, Giltner, who trailed former Sen. Lester H .Anderson, Aurora, by 102 votes in the 25th district, and Sen. Ed Lusienski, Columbus, in the 26th district who led Robert C. Brower by only 40 votes.

Burney Victor

The veteran Sen. Dwight Burney, Hartington, chairman of the Legislative Council was off to an early lead in his race aginst Bruce Stage in the 14th district and with eight precincts missing, had a lead of 3,483 or more than 2 to 1.

Crosby Plans Some Changes After Taking Nebraska Reins

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Satff Writer

"There will be some changes," Gov.-elect Robert B. Crosby said Wednesday in discussing his official family when he takes over the reins of state government in January.

"I have made no commitments and my mind is entirely open in seeking the best possible administrative ability for the state that I can find," he continued. "I plan to be methodical and thorough in studying the various department needs and will discuss both the present conduct of the offices and future needs with interested groups whose industries they supervise."

Crosby said that Gov. Val Peterson had invited him to attend departmental budget hearings starting Nov. 24 and that he would accept the invitation.

"Naturally, I will require information and time ot study and investigate requests before I give my budget message to the legislature which will be one of my first required duties."

An offer by Gov. Peterson to fill the vacancy of secretary in the office by naming a selection by Crosby apparently caught the governor-elect with his Political fences down.

"I am unprepared, at the present time, to name anyone to the secretaryship," Crosby explained. "I will have to have time to think it over."

The governor announced Wednesday that Crosby would be given office space and whatever supplies and help he needs at the Capitol.

"We are doing everything we can to make the transition as easy as possible," the governor commented.

"I am sure that all governors who have served have felt they did a good job in their administration, but I believe Bob Crosby has a potential of being one of the greatest governors we've ever had," Peterson declared.

Commenting on the national election results, Peterson said:

"Naturally, I am delighted. For over two years, I have felt Eisenhower was the man who could win the presidency for the Republican party and he certainly did it in an overwhelming manner Tuesday.

"I think he will add dignity and stature to the presidency and his election gives us greater assurance of peace."

Peterson pointed out that great responsibility now falls upon the general as well as on the party. "A whole generation of Republicans will now learn rapidly and possibly painfully that to carry the burdens of office is much harder than to act the role of the critic," Peterson said.

Asked if he anticipated any federal appointment in the new administration, Peterson replied: "That's a matter for General Eisenhower to determine."

New Job—And Bigger Family

It has been a busy week thus far for one Frank Marsh.

Tuesday night Mr. Marsh became Nebraska's Secretary of State-elect, winning by a wide margin the seat formerly held by his father.

Wednesday night he became the father of a new son, born at Bryan Memorial Hospital at 9:14 p.m., and weighing a husky 10 pounds, 14 ounces.

The boy, named Corwin Frank, is the fourth child for the Marshes. They have a daughter, 7, and two sons, 5½ and 2½. Mr. Marsh said the baby will be called Corky.

The proud father reported that both the mother and the baby were "doing fine."

President - Elect Confirms He Will Make Trip To Korea

Eisenhower Accepts Truman Offer To Have A Republican Representative Take Part In Forthcoming Discussions Of New Budget

From Press Dispatches

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the first Republican presidential candidate to crack the South in over 20 years, came to Georgia late Wednesday to rest.

The Eisenhower party landed at Augusta airport at 5:28 p.m., (EST).

Before leaving New York for the 10-day rest in Augusta, the President-elect confirmed to President Truman his campaign pledge to go to Korea to try to end the warfare there.

Truman sent him a telegram offering him the use of the presidential plane, Independence, but the general replied that a military service transport plane would be satisfactory.

The Republican presidential victor gave no indication of the date of the trip.

He accepted another Truman offer to have a representative sit in on discussions of the budget to be presented to the next session of Congress.

No Date Set

Aids said they knew of no date for the Korean trip. They said he intended to complete his 10 scheduled days in Georgia. After that he probably would confer with the Joint Chiefs of Staff before taking off on his Pacific journey.

Before leaving for the South Eisenhower had received congratulatory messages from Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, his Democratic opponent, and President Truman, who campigned as hard for Stevenson as he did for himself four years ago.

Truman congratulated him on what he called "your overwhelming victory."

Children Go Too

Eisenhower was accompained on his southern flight in a chartered Eastern Airlines plane by his wife, Mamie; her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud; his daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and the latter's three children.

In leaving the election hubbub behind him, the next President hoped to spend much of his time in Georgia on the golf course. But it seemed likely it would be a "rest" beset by the first of the problems he will face for the next four years.

Even on the greens and fairways these two immediate tasks would be with him!

1. Arrangements for his Korean trip.
2. The choosing of a Cabinet.

The President-elect has given no hint of whom he may favor for Cabinet posts or to head key governmental agencies.

Possible Appointees

Speculation centers around key figures in his campaign.

In the forefront in this speculation is Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass), who was defeated Tuesday in his bid for re-election.

Lodge was one of the early Eisenhower boosters and made the original announcement in a press conference that the general was available as a Republican candidate for the nomintion.

Then there is Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the unsuccessful GOP presidential nominee in 1944 and 1948, who came out for Eisenhower more than a year ago. Dewey worked tirelessly for the general in New York state and saw it give the candidate a plurality of more than 800,000 votes.

Seaton Mentioned

Names in the forefront include that of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who lost the nomination to Eisenhower in a bitter convention battle and then campaigned for Eisenhower in the Midwest that went Democratic four years ago. Generally it is believed, though, that Taft would be reluctant to give up his powerful place in the Senate.

Others who probably will merit consideration include John Foster Dulles, GOP foreign policy adviser, and such top campaign lieutenants as Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska, and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

All their states plumped for Eisenhower, incidentally.

President Truman invited Eisenhower to the White House at his "earliest convenience" to discuss the "problems that confront this country and the whole free world."

The President told Ike:

"I know you will agree with me that there ought to be an orderly transfer of the business of the executive branch of the government to the new administration. . . ."

Gov. Val Peterson Named As Possible Member Of Cabinet

Nebraska's Governor Val Peterson was given second choice Wednesday night by one political writer as the probable Secretary of Interior in the cabinet of President-elect Dwight Eisenhower.

International News Service Washington Bureau Chief William K. Hutchinson in a list of "favorites" said Washington Gov. Arthur B. Langlie would probably be first choice for the Cabinet post, with Peterson next in line if Gov Langlie declines.

Gov. Peterson campaigned assiduously for Gen. Eisenhower during the campaign, making appearance on radio and television in nearly all parts of the nation.

Listed by the Associated Press among those "who will probably merit consideration" for a cabinet post under Gen. Eisenhower is Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska, one of the general's top campaign advisors.

United Is Hit By Strike

Some Flights Affected As Engineers Go Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Three hundred United Air Lines flight engineers struck late Wednesday in the United States and Hawaii.

The AFL Flight Engineers Association said some Pacific flights were affected, but not its air lift to Korea. Union President William D. Kent added that domestic flights also were hampered.

Ten months of contract negotiations preceded the strike.

The union said engineers on United's big four-engined liners now made $420 to $625 a month.

New Pay Scale

"The unsettled issues," Kent went on, "include several vital working rules and an adequate pay scale."

United Air Lines called the walkout "a quickie strike . . . without any formal notice to the company."

Its smaller DC4 and DC3 planes were not affected, since they do not carry engineers.

Airport officials in Lincoln said regularly-scheduled United Air Lines flights to and from the city probably would not be affected by the strike because DC6 and Stratocruiser planes, the only ones affected, are not used on flights through here.

Valiant ROK Push Called Off By Allies

Artillery Takes Over After Frontal Charge

SEOUL—Allied leaders ordered courageously charging South Korean troops to break off their seventh frontal attack on Triangle Hill during daylight Wednesday and let artillery power take over the brunt of battle.

Dispatches said the decision came during a visit of Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army commander to the blazing Central Front.

Valiant South Korean troops pulled a surprise attack against the bloody Triange Hill mass, north of Kumhwa, at 4 a.m., without artillery preparation.

10 Yards Short

One assault wave after another hit the crest, but the highest the South Koreans could reach was 10 yards short of the top.

The Republic of Korea troops, now in the 24th day of battle for the hill, pulled back after 11 hours of fighting.

On nearby Sniper Ridge the Chinese Communists were knocked back by Allied shells and South Korean machine guns.

In Washington the Defense Department announced U.S. battle casualties reached 124,569, an increase of 1,174 since last week's notification to relatives. The figures included 179 dead, 1,015 wounded and 20 missing.

Action elsewhere along the Korean front was light Wednesday.

Woman Admits Putting Baby's Body In Drain

A 30-year-old Lincoln woman signed a statement Wednesday admitting that she placed the body of the baby she had given birth to early Monday in an outside drain at a local trailer camp, according to County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener.

The baby's body was discovered at approximately 10 p.m. Tuesday by Gene Lash, 27, a resident of the trailer park. He found the drain clogged when he tried to empty a five gallon pail of water into it. In attempting to open the drain with a stick, he discovered the body.

The woman, divorced and the mother of three other children, stated that the baby, a male, was still-born. She was unattended at the time of the birth.

No Violence

Incomplete results of an autopsy performed on the baby by Dr. G. W. Dean, City-County physician, revealed late Wednesday afternoon no evidence of external violence, Wagener said.

Dr. Dean stated the infant had been born within the last 48 hours and was born five and one-half to six weeks prematurely.

Wagener said Wednesday that "some type of a complaint will probably be filed." If the autopsy indicates the baby was dead at the time of birth, the mother will be charged, Wagener indicated, with illegal disposal of a body. The offense carries a one to three year term in the state penitentiary, a $2,500 fine, or both.

After signing the statement in the County Attorney's office, the mother was taken to a Lincoln hospital where she will be treated for loss of blood.

Exciting Era Goes Into Past

Emphasis On Legislative Objectives May Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "New Deal-Fair Deal" era—which began 20 years ago in the great depression—went tumbling into history Wednesday with the Republican presidential victory.

The voters' decision to send Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to the White House closed the chapter, one of the most exciting and stormy in the life of the Republic.

Wars—hot and cold, declared and undeclared—already had put the brakes on many of the social and economic revisions started by Franklin D. Roosevelt and advocated by his successor, Harry S. Truman. Very few such legislative changes have been enacted since the outbreak of the fighting in Korea, or even the end of World War II.

Some Agreement

With Eisenhower calling signals from the White House after January, the emphasis on legislative objective may shift entirely.

That is not to say that a drive will start to dismantle all the Roosevelt-Truman laws. Eisenhower and his Democratic rival, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, were in agreement on the need for such matters as social security, farm price supports and the development of natural resources.

The winning candidate took the stand, however, that there should be a maximum of local participation in these affairs, a minimum of federal interference in their development.

The New Deal got off to a flying start in the first 100 days of Roosevelt's first term, in 1933. A collective economic panic then had gripped the United States.

Bank Holiday

Immediately after his inauguration, Roosevelt ordered a three-day bank holiday, to slow down runs and failures. Then he called an emergency session of Congress.

If the members of Congress weren't sure what they were supposed to do, Roosevelt's "Brain Trust" supplied a steady stream of drafts for new legislation. Those measures, which vested enormous new powers in the chief executive, went through swiftly and with a minimum of debate.

One of the first big emergency items was an outright grant of 500 million dollars to the states for the relief of unemployment.

Billions of dollars were spent by WPA and other "alphabetical agencies" set up later.

These developments formed only the base layer of the New Deal.

The succeeding phase of Roosevelt's program included passage of the National Labor Relations Wagner Act, the Social Security Law, and the Rural Electrification Act.

QUEEN OF F.F.A. — Miss Fay Ensminger Wednesday night was named queen of the Waverly, Neb., chapter of Future Farmers of America at its annual father and son banquet held in the Waverly Methodist Church. The queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ensminger of Waverly. Her attendants were Marilyn Fahleson and Helen Schmidt. Shown above with Miss Ensminger is the chapter president Don Althous. About 125 FFA members, their fathers and guests were present. Three of the fathers, Raymond Hoy, Paul Sundeen and Ned Jewett, were presented Honorary Chapter Farmer plaques. GOP Gains Four State Governors

Republicans Take 18 Of 30 Contests

WASHINGTON (INS)—Republicans were outgaining Democrats in contests for governor Wednesday although several Democratic candidates overcame Ike landslides to win their states.

The GOP won control of at least four additional state capitals in 18 triumphs definitely scored in this year's 30 battles for gubernatorial posts.

Democratic rule continued in eight states in the races completed but the party won no state which it did not already hold.

Four In Doubt

Voters in Florida, Ohio, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Texas gave majorities to Eisenhower for President but kept Democrats in command of their state governments.

Outcomes of four battles were in doubt as tabulations continued a day after the election.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Democrat, seeking a third term as governor of Michigan, built up a fragile lead of a few thousand votes over Republican Fred M. Alger. Ten precincts were yet to be heard from.

Republican Gov. Dan Thornton appeared in the lead for re-election in Colorado but Democratic candidates Phil M. Donnelly in Missouri and John W. Bonner in Montana were holding a slight edge in their states.

Dever Defeated

The GOP picked up governorships in Deleware and Massachusetts, where incumbents were defeated, and in Illinois and Indiana.

Republican J. Caleb Boggs took Gov. Elbert N. Carvel's job away from him in Delaware and Rep. Christian Herter stepped out of Congress to do the same to Gov. Paul A. Dever in Massachusetts.

In Illinois, GOP candidate William Stratton edged out Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon for the governorship Adlai Stevenson gave up to run for President.

Election of George N. Craig returned Republican rule to Indiana where Democrat John A. Watkins were beaten for the post Gov. Henry F. Schricker vacated to run unsuccessfully for the senate.

Republicans retained state control in the re-elections of Howard Pyle, Arizona; William S. Beardsley, Iowa; Edward F. Arn, Kansas; C. Elmer Anderson, Minnesota; Edwin L. Mechem, New Mexico; Norman Brunsdale, North Dakota; Sigurd Anderson, South Dakota; J. Bracken Lee, Utah; Lee E. Emerson, Vermont, and Walter J. Kohler, Wisconsin; and probably Arthur B. Langlie, Washington.

Marine Air Unit Here To Mark Anniversary

The Marine Air Detachment at the Lincoln Naval Air Station will celebrate the 177th birthday of the Marine Corps next Monday at the Lincoln hotel.

The evening will begin with a Smorgasbord at 7:30 p.m., followed by the traditional cake cutting ceremony and dancing, beginning at 9 p.m.

Persons interested in attending are asked to contact the Marine Air Detachment or the Marine Recruiting Station.

Annual Awards Feature State Press Meeting

About 700 high school journalists are expected to arrive Friday and Saturday at the University of Nebraska for the 21st annual convention of the Nebraska High School Press Association.

The future journalists will participate in panel discussions concerning various phases of journalism, hear speakers and compete in news writing and editing contests. Friday afternoon a group will publish a special Saturday edition of The Daily Nebraskan, the campus newspaper.

Prof. William Hice of the School of Journalism is in charge of the convention.

Among the main speakers will be Dr. Walter Steigelmann, associate professor of journalism at the University of Iowa, who will address the opening meeting Friday morning. At the same meeting Dr. William F. Swindler, director of the School of Journalism, will announce the five winners of the Lincoln Newspapers gold keys, awarded annually to five outstanding University of Nebraska journalism students.

Besides the competitive contests, students will participate in the first series of convention clinics. The series, which is continued Saturday morning, includes a range of fields such as yearbooks, newspapers, photography, sports and typography.

Also on Friday afternoon's schedule are two panel discussion series including topics dealing directly with yearbook and newspaper problems the high school students have in their high schools. Panels are led by and composed of students. Another series will be held Saturday morning.

Friday evening, the journalists will attended a banquet at the Student Union during which the Gamma Alpha Chi advertising awards will be presented. Dr. Swindler will present certificates of recognition to three persons. A party and dance will follow.

Following the clinics and panels Saturday morning, the journalists will wind up the convention activities at a luncheon at which Reed O'Hanlon Jr., publisher of the Blair Pilot-Tribune, is the main speaker.

Certificates of merit to first, second and third place winners in competitive contests will be made by Pat Bechan of North Platte, Hile Goodrich of Crawford, Hice and Dr. Swindler.

Farm Bloc Returns To GOP Ranks

Republicans Favored First Time Since '32

WASHINGTON (AP)—The farm vote broke a 20-year Democratic grip in Tuesday's national elections and returned to its traditional place in Republican ranks.

Since 1932, this powerful bloc of votes had gone against Republican presidential candidates largely because Democrats set up and maintained precedent-breaking federal farm-aid programs.

But in Tuesday's balloting, producers indicated they were confident that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will continue the programs started by the Democrats. Like many other voters, farmers apparently cast ballots for Eisenhower on the basis of such issues as the Korean War, charges of corruption and communism in government, inflation and taxes.

Counted Heavily

Democratic standard bearer Adlai Stevenson and his party leaders had counted heavily on the farm vote repeating performances of the past five presidential elections. Four yeargs ago, Midwestern farmers gave President Truman a big assist in his upset victory over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Fear that the GOP would weaken the farm programs probably influenced farmers to vote for Truman. But they apparently had no such fear this time. Eisenhower had pledged continuance of present programs for at least two more years, and promised strong long-range farm-aid legislation.

The Eisenhower victory means that a Republican—possibly a fellow Kansan—will succeed Charles F. Brannan as secretary of agriculture.

Most prominently mentioned as Brannan's successor are Sen. Frank Carlson and Rep. Clifford Hope, both of Kansas. Carlson has been one of Eisenhower's chief campaign advisers.

County Poor Farm Will Go On Block In Next 90 Days

With the approval of the Lancaster County voters, the county commissioners will sell the poor farm as soon as possible within the next 90 days, according to chairman Chaur.cey E. Barney.

Approximately 232 acres of farm land will be sold, plus farm machinery, trucks, 38 head of purebred cattle, and 100 swine. Six acres, including the main building—in use now as the Westview Nursing Home—the garden, orchard, and chicken houses, will not be sold. County patients are cared for at the nursing home.

The commissioners plan on realizing $80,000 to $100,000 from the sale of the farm. Commissioner Barney stated the farm has been showing a loss of $8,000 to $10,000 per year since 1949.

Lancaster County 4-H Leaders Honored At Recognition Dinner

Nearly 300 Lancaster County 4-H leaders were honored at the ninth annual leadership recognition banquet Wednesday evening at the Lincoln Hotel.

Nineteen of these leaders were given special recognition for five years outstanding service.

Receiving pins for five years of service were:

Mrs. Wes Antes, Don Crawford, Mrs. Don Crawford, Mrs. George Eby, Mrs. H. N. Erskine, Mrs. Don Hanenkamp, Mrs. Elmer Kossack, Mrs. D. A. Keys, Mrs. Ray Martin, Ted Munn, Mrs. Ivan Olson, Clarence Patterson, Mrs. V. H. Petersen, Mrs. Verona Pugsley, Alexis Spader and R. E. Wagner.

Receiving pins for 10 years of service were:

Charles Lowell, Elton Lux and Don Parks.

Mrs. Dorthea Holstein, assistant state 4-H Club leader, made the presentation.

The leaders also elected the following seven members to the 4-H County Council: Carl Nelson, Raymond, District I; Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Ceresco, District II; Floyd Brokhage, Route 6, District III; Mrs. E. L. Sommer, 6025 Madison, District IV; Don Crawford, Roca, District V; Mrs. F. Steinmeyer, Hallam, District VI; and Everett Wissel, Bennet, District VII.

The Rev. Rex Knowles, University of Nebraska student pastor, told the leaders that youth must have "a purpose in life," learn that there is a "God above to whom they are accountable" and have "humility," if they are to be true leaders.

"It's a precious heritage to face life with a purpose," he said, and that heritage is something 4-H leaders must help teach the youth.

He called humility the "strongest thing in the world," admitting that it was hard to teach. People "just have to catch it," he continued.

H. A. Schimm, representing the Sears Roebuck Foundation which sponsors the recognition banquet each year, thanked the 4-H leaders who, he said, "are doing so much to insure the future of youth."

The Rev. William Hultman of Waverly delivered the invocation, and Maxine Sieck of Crete welcomed the 4-H leaders with John Munn, president of the 1952 County Council, responding.

Mrs. Oliver Johnson of Ceresco was toastmistress.

Richard Schessler, Former Resident, Dies In Galveston

Richard W. Schessler, 30, a member of the merchant marine and formerly of Lincoln, died Wednesday at Galveston, Tex.

Born in Lincoln, Jan. 12, 1922, he had resided here nearly 22 years. Mr. Schessler was married about three months ago.

Mr. Schessler

Surviving are his wife, Joan; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schessler of Lincoln; four brothers, Victor, Roland and Gerald, all of Chicago, and Paul of Lincoln; and two sisters, Mrs. Freda Bernhardt and Mrs. Helen Hanneman, both of Lincoln.

Funeral and burial will be in Lincoln.

Fred Youngquist, 62 Weeping Water, Dies

Fred Youngquist, 62-year-old Weeping Water farmer, died Wednesday at a Lincoln hospital.

Mr. Youngquist was a native of Louisville, Neb.

Survivors include two brothers, Joe of Eagle, Neb., and Henry of Louisville; and three nieces.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Friday at the Louisville Methodist Church. Burial will be at Louisville.

1,174 More U.S. Casualties Are Reported

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Defense Department, Wednesday, reported 1,174 American casualties in Korea for last week, a slight drop from the previous seven day's 1,278.

The number of American dead, however, increased 229 for the week, against 94 and 143 in the two previous weeks.

U.S. casualties since the start of the war total 124,569. This includes 19,446 killed in action; 92,275 wounded, of whom 2,047 have died, and 12,848 missing, of whom 207 are known to have died.

The total known dead is 21,700.

The Defense Department said last week's casualties, which lagged behind actual fighting, reflected American losses in the first struggle involving the U. S. Seventh Infantry Division at Triangle Hill.

Mrs. Cunningham, A Former Resident Of Lincoln, Dies

Mrs. Emma Cunningham, 73, Casper, Wyo., widow of the late J. C. Cunningham who formerly lived in Lincoln, died Tuesday at Casper.

Mrs. Cunningham and her husband, who was a railroad employee, moved to Wyoming from Lincln in 1916. Her husband died in August, 1947.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Rudge Memorial Chapel, the Rev. Virgil Anderson officiating. The body will lie in state from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

Burial will be at Wyuka.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Rose Stevens of West Point, Neb., and several nieces and nephews.

Demo Victory Was Impossible, Wyatt Says

GOP Theme For Change Snowballed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager said Wednesday the Republican theme of "time for a change" had snowballed to such proportions that Stevenson or no one else could have stopped it.

The statement came from Wilson Wyatt, who told reporters that the major factor in the Democrats' defeat was "a matter of cycle and time for a change."

"I don't think any single issue could have changed the election or that anyone could have led the campaign as ably, and with such high purpose, as Stevenson did," Wyatt said.

'Cumulative Thing'

He said "the time for a change thing was a cumulative thing" and that "the argument about change started 12 years ago" when President Roosevelt was running for a third term.

Referring to the Democratic presidential nominee as a "truly great leader of this country," Wyatt added: "His greatness will grow, and I think his leadership will grow too."

Wyatt said that the issues as drawn by Stevenson in the campaign "are the issues for the Democratic party during the next four years."

Adlai In '56?

To a newsman's question, 'What about 1956?" Wyatt replied:

"Only the future can tell. But I told Gov. Stevenson and others told him too, that our feeling was 'Adlai Stevenson for 1956.'"

A reporter asked Wyatt if he felt that President Truman's campaigning in behalf of Stevenson and the Democratic party pointed up the change issue. Wyatt replied that he believed Truman's participation "was good, and it was effective."

Cooperation In Helping Disturbed Children Stressed In Panel Talks

The desirability of closer cooperation among group work agencies in Lincoln to help disturbed children was emphasized by panel discussion members at a meeting of the Group Work Council Wednesday noon at the YWCA.

Under leadership of the Rev. Ward Conkling, the panel considered ways group work agencies and other public and private agencies can better work together on child behavior problems.

The group concluded that while many groups have become specialists in certain areas, there is a need to co-ordinate some of the work because of overlap.

One panel member, Mary Jane Young of Child Guidance Center, suggested that group leaders "get to know the parents of individual members." She said that whenever a problem arises, the parents are who the leader must contact.

She explained that workers must secure consent of parents even if the consent is merely passive. Many times, she said, parents have the "I don't care attitude," but will still add, "But you do what you want to."

Mrs. Grace Morning of Juvenile Court, stressed the importance of providing activities, outside of purely recreational ones, for delinquents.

And Zora Tenant, co-ordinator of attendance for Lincoln Public Schools, described ways groups can co-operate with other agencies when coming in contact with a disturbed child. She emphasized the need of keeping a careful record of each child.

Having groups to which a child needing companionship may belong, was also brought out. One member pointed out the advantage and needs of youngsters belonging to and participating in group activities.

Mrs. Sarah Walker was program chairman.

Suit Seeks $16,840 For Sprinkler Damage

A suit for $16,840.17 damages to goods and merchandise allegedly due to a faulty sprinkler system was filed Wednesday in Federal Court.

The Wander Company, a corporation, charges in their petition that the sprinkler system installed by the United Sprinkler Corporation broke on Jan. 16 and 19, 1952. The damage was done by water escaping from the pipes.

Wander Company states in their petition that the company owns three lots on 10th and M streets.

"AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN"

In The Spirit Of Unity

The brightest star in the crown which a free people proudly wear has been in the capacity to achieve unity even in an atmosphere of bitter political controversy to the everlasting end of a healthy national welfare.

★

The American people have spoken in terms unmistakable. By their votes in such volume as to constitute an unprecedented majority, they have chosen Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as their President and Sen. Richard Nixon of California as vice president. In that decision, every thoughtful American not only should join cheerfully, but more than cheerfully, with a genuine determination to contribute to the desirable results. The most beautiful flower this country has produced has been acceptance by its people of the principle of majority rule. Because the American people traditionally have placed a high value upon their convictions, because the real source of power in this nation has been its conscience, it will be more to the credit of all of us if an understanding that has not existed can take its place to strengthen American will.

★

With the verdict in, Gen. Eisenhower becomes the leader and the spokesman for not only those who supported him but those who opposed him. He will need the help, the prayers, the good will of all the people of a nation upon whose shoulders fearful responsibility rests. Nothing short of that will achieve the results upon which there can be common agreement even though differences may exist as to the means and methods of attaining those results. That was the underlying spirit of the words which the humble, newly-elected President uttered after his election had been assured. That was the essence of what his rival, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, said when in defeat he called upon those who had followed him to contribute to the success of Gen. Eisenhower's administration. It was Gov. Stevenson's finest—one of the great messages to come welling from the heart of a man engulfed in defeat.

★

The campaign and its results should be only the beginning of what all of us honestly can hope are years of a renewed vitality in the growing glory of this country. There is work to do—work for every one of us—work of an exacting, demanding character for every American who reverences his country and believes with all his heart in its institutions.

★

Whether it pleases us or not, America is the world's best hope. Here the dignity of the individual citizen remains untouched in the fullest sense. Here the peoples dream fine dreams of a future which, in the sanctity of the American fireside and the sacredness of the family, has been that steady flame responsible in no small degree for the accomplishments that have made the United States what it is. We, the people, are the architects of our future—not only the architects but the actual builders—laboring day by day and month by month to construct the stoutest citadel within the capacity of a free people. We are proud of that, we bestow upon it the best within us, and it continues to command our thought and energies.

★

Out of this election verdict, certain directives will be recognized. There is a call for a halt on spending — government spending — a reduced budget—reduced taxes—a curb upon Big Government — less government. To this end, the American people should subscribe. There is no reason to believe that Gen. Eisenhower and his associates in the Republican party will pursue any other course than to carry out the mandate that has been expressed. There is in the election mandate a thunderous demand for honest government—for the elimination of corruption, for the revival of the principle that public office is a public trust and there is no reason to believe that to this objective Gen. Eisenhower will render anything other than the most consecrated service. There is a directive that America's ramparts be strengthened against the infiltration of Communism and to that end the new President and Congress will bend every energy. There is the universal hope for peace — a lasting, durable peace, with its serenity and security, a peace with honor to which the free peoples of the world can subscribe fully. In all of this it will be remembered that Gen. Eisenhower in his first try for office polled the largest vote ever given to any American—a mark of faith and confidence.

★

These are the goals to which all Americans, regardless of party, can subscribe wholly. It is the hope of this paper that Gen. Eisenhower adds not only to American prestige abroad but brings to America's millions a new sense of responsibility and a new measure of unity. It is the hope of this paper that we shall in the years ahead develop a neglected spirit of creativeness overshadowing critical attitudes that have been so marked. To the new President, the heartiest of congratulations with a prayer that one and all join him in the crushing burdens that he now assumes.

Republican Sweep In Nebraska

Robert Crosby of North Platte will become Nebraska's next governor, succeeding Val Peterson.

A most prepossessing young man, he will make this state a most excellent governor. No newcomer to the political field, Mr. Crosby can draw upon his solid background of knowledge of state affairs from his legislative experience and from a term as lieutenant governor. He has in unusual measure the qualifications for leadership—an engaging personality, a good mind, a capacity for hard work, a zeal for public service in the very highest sense. Nebraska was fortunate in this campaign. It had two exceptionally well qualified men to choose from in filling the highest office within the gift of the voters of this state.

It is within the possibilities that Mr. Crosby not only will be one of Nebraska's good governors but he may become one of its great governors. He has an opportunity to devote his abilities to a program of development which will contribute enormously to the progress of this state.

With increased emphasis the voters of Nebraska reaffirmed their allegiance to their Republican faith. They gave to Gen. Eisenhower the greatest victory any presidential candidate has ever scored in Nebraska. They selected two Republicans to sit in the United States Senate—the veteran Hugh Butler of Omaha—and former Gov. Dwight Griswold, chosen for the short term resulting from the death of the late Kenneth Wherry. They chose a solid Republican delegation for the House—Rep. Carl Curtis in the First District; a newcomer, Roman Hruska in the Second District; R. D. Harrison in the Third District; and A. L. Miller in the Fourth.

They selected a solid slate of Republican state officials. For the first time in its history, with the exception of the early years of statehood, one political party has been retained in power in state government for nearly a decade and a half.

Cooperative Congress

When this was written Wednesday shortly after noon, the press dispatches said that the results of the congressional election still were not conclusive.

This is to express the hope that Ike, backed by the greatetst vote the American people ever have given any man, will have a Congress willing to work fully with the newly elected President. We have the feeling that in the early months, at least, Ike can be assured of support from the southern Democrats unless elements within Gen. Eisenhower's own party undertake to lead the American people towards a modified policy of isolation. Generally these southern Democrats have supported the international program. The conflict between White House and Congress in recent years largely has reflected differences over domestic issues, rather than matters of foreign policy.

It was evident that a very substantial minority voice would be represented in the new Congress. It must in national interest not only serve as a check but in helpful spirit in fields where no substantial differences exist.

One of the amazing ironies of Tuesday's balloting was the defeat of young Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, if the final returns do confirm that early indication. Lodge was one of the tiny group who led the fight for Gen. Eisenhower in the Chicago convention. He has been a first-rate senator—one of the better senators in Republican ranks. Chances are that if the completed count eliminates him from the Senate, he will fill one of the key posts in the Eisenhower administration.

There were other results in the senatorial battle of a significant character. In Kentucky a Democrat lost to former capable Gov. John Cooper who will add to the prestige of the Senate. And if the final returns from Montana and Washington state seal the defeat of Senators Cain and Ecton, with Missouri replacing Sen. Kem with Stuart Symington, the public can rejoice. The Senate will be strengthened by these men.

Elections And Fruit Cake

Election news which had each one of us punchdrunk had not even finished coming in on the wires when a headline and feature story was put down on The Star's news desk. "—And Now's The Time To Bake Fruit Cake For Christmas," the headline proclaimed.

Although that thought had not really entered the mind of busy newsmen—or newswomen—come to think of it, now is the time, all right, to bake that fruit cake for Christmas.

In millions of homes, throughout all the pleas, charges, claims, aspersions, denials, declarations, predictions, warnings, and what not of the past few weeks, the women have been going about their usual household tasks. Perhaps it never occurred to them to think that now is the time to bake fruit cake for Christmas. If they were given a hint in that direction, maybe they'd do something about it.

Fruit cake needs maturing to be rich and mellow. It cuts better, too, if it is aged a few weeks. Baking a fruit cake for Christmas is something that should not be put off too long, for then it will be too late to have the real thing come Christmastime.

Somehow, the idea of raisins, currants, dates, etc., being mixed in a kitchen is an attractive thought. And after all of the huliaballoo, nothing could be sweeter than to think of a fruit cake.

Consider this, if you like, an editorial recommendation.

Propaganda Of Reds Hits At GI 'Atrocities'

WASHINGTON — With the hectic election period over, the United States will have to give some attention to our badly neglected field of foreign affairs, particularly to the wave of anti-American propaganda now sweeping various parts of the world.

For some time, due to the charges and countercharges of the candidates, positive policy by the State Department has been pretty much suspended. So, likewise, with some of our important allies. Both Foreign Secretary Eden and Foreign Minister Schuman have delayed any important pronouncements on foreign affairs until after elections; in fact, they even urged other United Nations members to postpone the general assembly meeting until after Nov. 4.

One of the most shocking developments which the United States will have to do something about is the barrage of scurrilous propaganda in Korea, charging us with atrocities against Korean women. The details in some cases are almost too revolting to be printed in famil- newspapers, but Russian and satellite publications are spewing this poison every day.

While the Voice of America is trying to counteract it, its budget, thanks to the pruning of irascible Sen. Pat McCarran, has been drastically cut.

☆ ☆ ☆

Here are illustrations of what the North Koreans are telling Asia about us.

North Korean newspaper Minchu Chosen reports this eerie account of UN troops in the district of Echu:

"American soldiers picked all the young women out of the crowd (of natives) and locked them in empty warehouses. All the women were then raped. The American butchers began to brand patches on the women's bodies with heated irons and nails.

"All the women who resisted the ravishers had a wire put through their nose by the Americans and they were led by this wire through the village. The monsters gouged out the eyes of many women and hacked lumps of flesh out of their bodies.

"The butchers disemboweled several pregnant women who fell into their hands during the temporary occupation of the town of Sariwen."

The journal New Korea also reported in a recent issue that Americans "tortured more than 700 patriots near Mount Mirosan." This lying article, obviously dictated by a higher Communist echelon, went on to say:

"The murderers seared them with heated irons, knocked out their teeth, cut off their noses, and gouged out their eyes. They led the women naked through the streets and then shot them. In the village of Duchen, Pyonyang district, the American bandits arranged a so-called 'Exhibition of Reds.' After tying the hands and feet of 130 patriots, they bound them to trees and for a long time gave them no food. All the 130 people died.

"Once," the Communist article continued, "the American butchers led out more than 30 young women and girls on the street in this village. Many of the women had children. The American monsters brought this group to the Nekyagor Gorge, where a pit several meters long was already dug.

"The women were placed at the edge of the pit. One of the escorts went up to a woman with a child in her arms and bayoneted her from behind and then kicked the body into the pit. Seeing this, the remaining women attempted to save themselves by flight, but enemy bullets overtook them. All the women were killed and their bodies thrown into the gorge."

☆ ☆ ☆

With typical Communist relish for mixing gore and lies, the New Korea added: "In the village of Saphenni, Senen rural district, about 200 women were subjected to mockery. Outraging the defenseless women, the butchers stripped them naked and tied them up in groups of five and ten. The butchers used these women as live targets for pistol shooting.

"During the withdrawal from the district of Yanyan, the occupiers took with them a large group of the inhabitants of the district. These exhausted people were told by the Americans that they were being evacuated to a safe place. The Americans then called up aircraft by radio.

"Fighter planes dived on the defenseless people and brutally began to machine-gun them. In this way more than 300 guiltless people died."

We know, for instance, that the Communists long ago trademarked the brutal practice of leading Koreans and Chinese they considered "traitors" or "pro-American" down a village street with a wire through their noses. This also happened to American officers captured by the Communists in Seoul.

☆ ☆ ☆

The custom of tying victims together in groups and to trees before murdering them also is a Communist practice. The above-mentioned "gorge" murders near Duchen, falsely charged to Americans, also have a striking parallel in the brutal mass murder of 12,000 Poles by the Russians in Katyn Forest early in World War II.

Many of the Poles were tied to trees and shot through the head before being dumped into a huge burial pit. The number and pattern of bullet marks in the execution trees indicated the victims were used for pistol-shooting practice by the Russians, according to a congressional investigating committee headed by Rep. Ray Madden of Indiana.

Some State Department officials believe that the current G.I. "atrocity" propaganda by the Communists may be their answer to the Katyn expose.

Our broadcasts on this were so effective, in fact, that Foy Kohler, administrator of the Voice of America, has received numerous requests for reprints from behind the Iron Curtain. The reprint request which Kohler is proudest of came via the underground from a courageous lady in Moscow.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Van Fleet Recall By Truman A Possibility

WASHINGTON — Of the overwhelming array of problems waiting on the White House doorstep for the new president one is especially tangled in personal relationships. Not only will civilian officials in charge of defense be replaced but several of the top men in uniform must retire.

General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff; General J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff of the army; and General Hoyt Vandenberg, chief of staff for air are due to go out next summer. Bradley has already had his tour of duty extended once and it cannot under the law be extended again.

The joint chiefs together with Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett and Deputy Secretary William Foster have been working out the figures for the new defense budget. They believe they have cut every possible corner to arrive at a budget of $40 billions. This is $12 billions under what was asked for the current fiscal year and $7 billions under what Congress appropriated.

Bradley, Collins and Vandenberg must justify that budget even though they will presumably be in retirement shortly after it must be administered. Also in the interval before they step out they will be confronted with plans for a more far-reaching unification of the three services and revision of the role of the joint chiefs of staff.

Even more likely to have explosive repercussions is the question of the status of General Van Fleet, American commander in the field in Korea. General Eisenhower, a few days before the end of the campaign, read from a letter from Van Fleet stating that he had wanted to train South Korean units under a speed-up program which he could not get approved by the Pentagon.

This political bombshell produced some immediate results in the headlines. But they were mild compared to the rumpus behind the scenes.

☆ ☆ ☆

President Truman's train was in Chicago when the news broke of Eisenhower's use of the Van Fleet letter. The President was furious and so were his political aides. They realized the significance of the Van Fleet letter.

Telephone lines from the train were immediately buzzing with the defense department in Washington. The demand was for a public statement making clear that Van Fleet's speed-up program had been overruled not by any civilian official but by his military superior, General Matthew Ridgway, in the first instance and later by General Mark Clark, who is now supreme commander in Asia.

Having tried to stay completely out of the campaign, defense officials hesitated about saying something that might be interpreted as taking sides politically. This was true even though they were fully aware of the fact that Van Fleet had been overruled in the normal course of the chain of command for military reasons.

☆ ☆ ☆

On the Truman train was a confidential file of most of the exchanges between Korea, Tokyo and Washington on the training of South Koreans. The President had the power to declassify any one of these documents, including even the recommendations of the JCS. Over the scorching wires from the train it was plainly hinted that unless a statement of the facts was forthcoming from an official source one or more of these confidential reports would be made public. As one of the President's assistants put it in recounting this dramatic episode, they felt fully justified in taking such a drastic step in order to correct the record for the American people who were about to make a critical decision for the years ahead.

For the President the incident was a reminder of his bitter controversy with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. There are those who believe that in the two-month interval while he is still commander-in-chief Truman may recall Van Fleet from his command as he recalled MacArthur. This would, of course, produce a wave of emotionalism, with Van Fleet in the martyr's role comparable in kind if not in degree to the MacArthur dramatization. At the same time it would further blur and confuse the problem of the Korean War, which was the subject of so much violent campaign oratory.

In one interpretation of the law Van Fleet must retire on Jan. 24. This is under the Officers' Personnel Act of 1947 providing that an officer on the fifth anniversary of his appointment to the permanent grade of major general "will be retired." Van Fleet has again and again proved himself as a fighting soldier. Under certain circumstances his tour of duty in Korea can be extended. And it may still be extended even though he has now become deeply embroiled in politics.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

A Good Home And Affection Worked Wonders

By JEFF WITHROW
Star Staff Writer

A little dog psychology paid off in making Gunnar a home-loving pet.

The 3-year-old Boxer was called a vicious dog less than two years ago and was turned over, as unmanagable, to Leslie Loomis, superintendent of the Lancaster County Humane Society.

Today the king-size dog has the disposition of a kitten and is called the "nicest house dog I have ever had" by Mrs. Jeff Martin, 900 Fall Creek Road.

"It proves," Loomis explains, "that there is a home for most every dog."

☆ ☆ ☆

Because Gunnar was diagnosed as a jealous dog, a home had to be found where no other dog could share affection and where affection was plentiful, according to Loomis.

Gunnar will be only man's best friend or nothing.

Loomis explained that the dog loves to be around children and can be as tolerant with them as any dog. But when a child seems to be getting more attention than Gunnar, the dog becomes a bundle of nerves.

The boxer can be a good friend to other dogs, too—that is, until some other dog gets more attention.

☆ ☆ ☆

Mr. and Mrs. Martin, who have owned Gunnar for three months, explain that the dog was rehabilitated in his new home with little trouble.

The dog's main interests, said Mrs. Martin, are lounging around the house and long car rides.

The change to a new home had little effect on Gunnar's appetite.

"He'll eat anything we do," Martin said. Listed as favored dishes were ice cream, tossed salad with dressing, apples, tomatoes and peaches.

Leslie Loomis, who is credited with Gunnar's present behavior, said "It shows what a little training will do for a dog." He explained that the dog needed only a little understanding and training to make him an excellent pet.

"Gunnar loves it in his new home," said Loomis.

Patrick Henry's Speech

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I chanced to glance through one of your recent columns dealing with Williamsburg. Your reference to the church there as the spot where Patrick Henry delivered his immortal words of "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death" is incorrect. That speech was delivered in St. John's Church in Richmond. Any resident of Richmond would dispute you hotly—possibly invite you to settle the issue by dueling. St. John's Church is located in one of Richmond's better known sections. I am directing your attention to this error for the purpose of keeping history straight.

Editor's note: The editor humbly begs the reader's pardon. Possibly Patrick Henry used the church in Williamsburg for rehearsal, although history tells us these lines were unrehearsed.

Man Of Destiny

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I believe in voting early and as often as an election is held. I believe I cast my ballot for the best party and the best candidates. However, that does not mean I am either a left-wing internationalist or a stand-pat reactionary.

This has been the most bitterly fought and the most acrimoniously carried out election campaign in recent United States history. The President elected Tuesday may well be a man of destiny, whether it be for a destiny of good or ill; only the uncertain future holds the answer, but I have faith that God watches over this infant nation and that the great American electorate will name the right man.

Lullaby Of The Soil

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have called the following "Permanent Pasture":

Mother Nature in her mysterious way
Longs to protect her hills of clay.
They weep from the wounds of the plow's piercing blade.
Lifeless now that the crops are made.
She sends the browns and tans and creeping dust
Reminding man that rest soil must.
The body beyond endurance does faint,
The soil endures without complaint
And Mother Nature in her own subtle way
Entreats Heaven's aid to save the day.
The drought settles in and the dust lies thick,
Man and animal bemoan nature's trick,
Saying they will surely die.
They pray for rain to fall from the sky.
Greedy men, have you never seen
Renewed vegetation lush and green?
Have faith, man of dust, do not cry
While Mother Nature sings the soil's lullaby.

THAT DIET SHEET

The doctor looked at me and said:
"Beware of pie and cake and bread;
Be strong of will and push aside
Your favorite meat when it is fried.
Shun every sort of food you like
And go upon a hunger strike."

He handed me a diet sheet
Which listed what I still may eat.
"Just follow this," he said, "and then
In six weeks' time come back again."
"Six weeks of this?" I heaved a sigh.
"It still alive I will," said I.

Landslide For Eisenhower Sweeps Beyond 32 Million Mark

Michigan's Sen. Moody Is Defeated

WASHINGTON (INS) —President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower, resting in Augusta, Ga., after scoring one of the most decisive victories in U. S. political annals, today mapped a busy schedule that included important talks with President Truman, a peace mission to Korea and the selection of his cabinet.

The endless deluge of votes delivered him 39 states, a GOP-controlled House of Representatives and Senate.

The 39 states—including a narrow win in Missouri—gave him a 442-89 edge over Gov. Adlai Stevenson in electoral voting. On the basis of over 90 per cent tabulation of the popular voting, Eisenhower had 32,135,382 and Stevenson 25,895,364. Both marks and the total of 57,994,746 were records.

The greatest number of votes previously cast in an American election was just under 50,000,000 in 1940. The greatest number ever before won by a candidate was 27,700,000 by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 against Alf M. Landon.

Leaders of the rejuvenated Republican party, back in control of the white house after 20 years of drought, claimed Wednesday night that 225 party members had won seats in the house, seven more than the 218 needed to command.

In the excruciatingly close Senate race, the Republicans ended Democratic possession of the upper house's machinery when Rep. Charles E. Potter, legless war veteran, defeated the incumbent Democrat, Blair Moody, former Washington correspondent.

Biggest Voting Spree

Potter's victory meant the GOP had 48 seats—half of the total. The Democrats have 47 plus the promise that Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who now lists himself as an independent, will continue to lean toward the Democratic side.

As Eisenhower flew south to rest, and the nation recovered from the biggest voting spree in its history, speculation arose as to the new cabinet which will take over in Washington after Eisenhower's inauguration.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was not available for comment on reports that he would be Eisenhower's secretary of state. Dewey was the general's first nationally prominent booster for the GOP nomination, and emerged at the end of the campaign as his foremost spokesman. Dewey last year made a trip around the world, and wrote a book on his experiences.

Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, who raced Eisenhower for the nomination, was said to be ticketed for secretary of labor.

But the general is expected to take his time in naming the closest partners in his "crusade."

Sen. Lodge Beaten

Among the victims in the sternly contested senatorial contests was Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., one of the principal promoters of Eisenhower's nomination at Chicago. Lodge lost to youthful Congressman John Kennedy.

Two Republican senators who were the targets of the bitterest attacks levelled by the Democrats during the campaign—McCarthy of Wisconsin and Jenner of Indiana—were returned victorious. But a third target of the Truman-Stevenson forces, Sen. Kem of Missouri, lost to Stuart Symington, Democrat, and former New Deal and Fair Deal official.

John Foster Dulles, mentioned as prospective secretary of state in Eisenhower's cabinet, hailed the general's victory as "a mandate to seek better foreign relations."

Hoover Comments

Herbert Hoover, only living ex-President and the last Republican who sat in the White House, joined with Eisenhower in calling for an end to the rancor developed during the campaign, and a united front.

"The problems before us are more difficult than were even debated in this campaign," Hoover stated. "The majority of our people are placing their faith in the solution of our problems in the hands of Gen. Eisenhower. I am sure the whole American people will pray to the Almighty for the general's success in the great task now before him."

The Eisenhower landslide was reflected in the 29 gubernatorial contests. Republicans won control of at least four additional state capitals, increasing their margin over the Democrats, 29 to 19.

Large Crop Drops Alfalfa Seed Price

The large alfalfa seed crop this year is the reason for the big drop in price, says C. R. Porter, certification manager for the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association.

He says that almost 149 million pounds of alfalfa seed is the anticipated production in the United States this year. And, he adds, the United States needs about 100 million pounds each year for planting.

As a result the scarcity of alfalfa seed which existed a few months ago has been transformed into a surplus market. This year's production was almost twice the 10-year average.

When a farmer bought certified Ranger alfalfa seed the latter part of July this year he probably paid as high as 80 cents a pound for the seed. Now the farmer with similar seed for sale would be bid around 35 to 40 cents a pound.

Support price on northern common alfalfa seed is 35 cents a pound and for certified Ranger 40 cents a pound.

First Tire, Then Whole Trailer Is Taken By Thieves

Thieves added insult to injury to Steele Mills of Gresham by stealing one of the tires from his trailer and then stealing the trailer two nights later.

Mills, reporting the theft to the Lancaster County Sheriff's office, stated that the trailer's axle broke and he parked the two-wheel metal trailer on the shoulder of Highway 2 near the Air Base entrance on Oct. 31.

The trailer, valued at $150, was stolen Nov. 4. Mills said the tire was stolen Nov. 1.

Mid-State Offering New Diversion Compact Proposal

Plan Favors Residents Of Basin Area

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — The Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation District has made a new proposal for a water diversion compact with the Central Nebraska Tri-County Public Power and Irrigation District.

The compact, already approved by Mid-State directors, is a counter-proposal to one previously made by Tri-County relative to an amendment to Nebraska's water statutes to permit diversion of water from one watershed to another.

Tri-County had proposed that the 1943 water statutes be amended to permit diversion of water, but providing that those within the drainage basin using water for agricultural purposes have preferences over those using it for manufacturing purposes and also over those using water for agricultural purposes outside the basin.

The Mid-State proposal would provide that those using or desiring to use water "for any purpose" within the basin "including the maintenance of the underground level" of the basin shall have preference over those using it outside the basin.

The proposed compact also provides that Mid-State would be allowed to proceed as rapidly as possible with the development of its project, and could obtain without objection from Tri-County, whatever appropriations of water that development may require.

Surplus To Tri-County

It would give Mid-State the right annually to 450,000 acre feet of Platte River water at its diversion dam, and any surplus over that amount would be available to Tri-County for irrigation of table lands and for storage for that use. Mid-State would provide storage capacity for Tri-County in its reservoir system.

Tri-County wants to irrigate about 150,000 acres of land in Gosper, Phelps, Kearney and Adams County south of the Platte River watershed.

The proposal now awaits action by the Tri-County Board. If approved Tri-County would be free to seek legislative permission to use surplus Platte River water to irrigate table lands outside the watershed.

Hunter Found Dead On Farm At Gibbon

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Lawrence Alexander, 30, Grand Island, apparently the victim of a hunting accident, was found dead Wednesday near the Pete Brandt farm northeast of Gibbon.

Brandt said he noticed a parked car Tuesday, but didn't investigate until Wednesday morning. He said Alexander apparently had crawled through a fence with his gun and shot himself in the abdomen.

Crosby Given Best Wishes From Raecke

CENTRAL CITY, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Walter Raecke, defeated Democratic candidate for the Nebraska governorship, Wednesday said he wished his successful opponent, Robert Crosby, a "successful administration."

Raecke added, "I am confident he will make an excellent governor and we should all give him our support."

His statement continued:

"To the people of Nebraska I extend my thanks for the courteous manner in which I have been received throughout the state. Friendships renewed and new ones made in the election campaign will not soon be forgotten.

"If by my discussion of the problems of state government I have made in the campaign I have added anything to the cause of clean politics and clean government in Nebraska then I am content.

Contacted by The Star at his home in Minden, Democratic state chairman William Meier said he had no comment to make on the outcome of Tuesday's voting Meier said he was yet unable to "analyze the voting."

Metcalfe Again On Power Board

OMAHA (AP)—Ted W. Metcalfe was returned to the board of the Omaha Public Power District in Tuesday's election with a substantial majority. Metcalf and William Kunold led a field of four by safe margins as 200 of the 204 precincts were counted.

Metcalfe had polled 50,949 votes, Kunold 47,748, running well ahead of Harry Knudsen with 40,203 and Gus A. Dworak with 37,247.

Frank L. Frost, was named republican member of the Metropolitan Utilities District board with a total of 52,664 votes to 28,954 for Alfred R. Hansen on the basis of 200 to 204 Precincts.

Attorney James F. Green won the Democratic directorship leading former Mayor Dan B. Butler 56,102 to 31,918 on the basis of 200 precincts.

Nebraska Trio Played Roles In Ike's Campaign

By the Associated Press

Three Nebraskans played top roles in the winning campaign of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

Sen. Fred Seaton, Hastings, was a top adviser at the general's side throughout his campaign. Seaton, appointed by Gov. Val Peterson as successor to the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry, did not seek election to that office, instead devoting his energies to Eisenhower work.

Gov. Peterson, one of the original backers of the general, made speeches all over the country in Eisenhower's behalf, and Secretary of State James Pittenger, who became acquainted with the general in World War II, was one of the top advanced men in the GOP drive.

Power Lawnmower Holds Answer To Problem Of Leaves

Use your lawnmower instead of a rake for clearing leaves from your lawn this fall.

That's the suggestion of University of Nebraska horticulturists. If you have a rotary-type power lawmower which pulverizes grass, you can also break up leaves. It's a good way to add humus to the lawn and not as dangerous as burning leaves during dry weather, say the horticulturists, They add that pulverizing leaves usually is practical except when leaves are so thick there is danger of smothering the grass.

County Counts 13th Fatality Due To Polio

Funeral services for Jimmy Benner, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Benner of 3519 Apple who died Wednesday, the 13th polio fatality in Lancaster County, will be held at 2:30 p.m., Friday.

Jimmy Benner

The Rev. Harold C. Sandall will officiate at the services at Wadlow's Chapel. The Rev. John P. Flemmer will assist.

Born in Lincoln, Jimmy was hospitalized eight days ago with bulbar polio.

Surviving besides his parents is his grandfather, George Benner of Lincoln.

Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

His death is the 95th attributed to polio in the state this year.

Thompson And Greenberg Win Regents' Posts

By the Associated Press

C. Y. Thompson, West Point, and B. N. Greenberg, York, won places on the University of Nebraska Board of Regents in Nebraska's election Tuesday.

Greenberg ousted Incumbent George Liggett, Utica, in a close fourth district race.

Thompson was an easy winner over Abner K. Chestem, Decatur, in the third district.

Griswold First Former Governor Elected Senator

OMAHA (INS)— Senator-elect Dwight Griswold has made political history in Nebraska.

His victory over Democrat William Ritchie made him the first former governor in the state's history to be elected to the senate.

One other Nebraska governor, Charles H. Dietrich, has gone to the U.S. Senate, but he did it at the turn of the century when senators were were selected by state legislatures.

Special Issues Are Split Between Approval, Rejection

2 Proposals At Beatrice Are Okayed

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraskans who voted on special local issues in several towns and cities in the general election appeared Wednesday to have split rather evenly between approval and rejection.

Receiving a nod from the voters Tuesday night were bond issues and amendments in the following localities: Omaha, Nebraska City, Hayes Center, Norfolk, Beatrice and Pickrell.

Issues were rejected in Hastings, Scottsbluff, Morrill, Omaha, St. Paul and Tecumseh.

Hastings, where bond issues frequently find great opposition, a proposal to issue $300,000 in bonds for expansion and improvement of the city's sewage treatment plant was rejected. Adams County voters, however, approved a bond issue for construction of a home for the aged.

In Scottsbluff a proposal to build a $285,000 city hall was rejected by voters.

Beatrice voters approved two proposals to change the form of their city government and to permit transfer of management of streets and sewers to the board of public works which operates municipal utilities. The change in government involves an end to the present commission plan of government to a mayor-council plan.

According to the Associated Press, Omaha voters had approved a $4,500,000 street improvement program under which 101 miles of streets will be resurfaced and 205 miles seal coated during the next 10 years. A trash and garbage disposal levy was also given approval.

Proposed Terminal Defeated

At the same time, however, Omahans appeared to have rejected a $1,685,000 airport terminal bond issue, and a fire department advance system was headed for a stalemate.

Norfolk voters approved a merit system for the police department by an overwhelming vote.

In Tecumseh a $150,000 hospital bond issue failed to get a necessary two-thirds majority needed for passage.

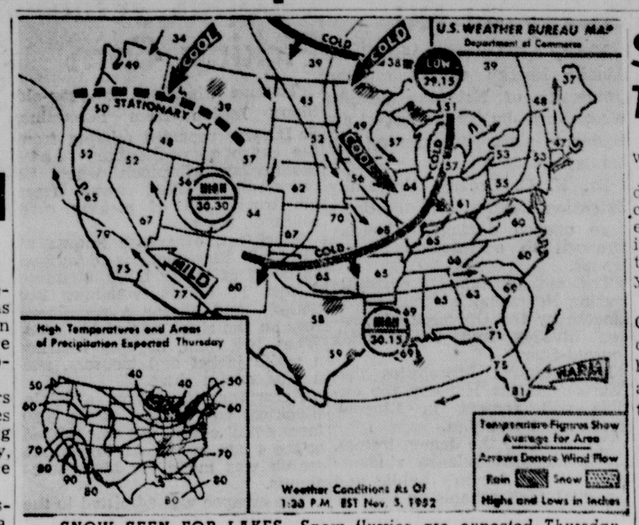
A proposal for a county hospital to be located in St. Paul was rejected by voters there and in the county. It would have cost $135,000.

Hayes County voters decided by a substantial margin in favor of issuing $85,000 in bonds for a new courthouse.

A $30,000 sewer bond issue at Nebraska City received overwhelming approval there.

Morrill voters decided 315 to 114 in favor of a $20,000 issue for street light improvement.

At Pickrell voters approved a proposal to issue bonds for the construction of a $21,000 water system.



SNOW SEEN FOR LAKES—Snow flurries are expected Thursday in the central and upper Lakes region with showers due along the eastern Lakes area. Aside from rain in western Tennessee and western Kentucky, weather will be generally fair throughout the rest of the nation. The coastal sections of the Atlantic and Gulf states will be mild while cooler weather will extend over the northern and central Plains states, the Lakes region and the Ohio and central Mississippi Valleys. Martin Sees GOP Mandate

KEARNEY, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—David Martin, Republican state chairman, made the following statement late Wednesday on the outcome of the election.

"The victory registered at the polls by Gen. Eisenhower indicates that the people are completely fed up with the mess in Washington and have given the Republican party a mandate to clean up this mess.

"The overwhelming victory of the entire slate of Republican candidates in Nebraska shows Nebraska voters overwhelmingly approve the splendid administration which the Republican party leaders have given the state."

Suicide Laid To Accident Concern

OFFUTT AIR BASE, Neb. (INS)—Concern over a freak accident that plunged part of Offutt Air Base into darkness was attributed for the apparent suicide of S/Sgt. William B. Fawcett 23, of Newcastle, Wyo.

Air Force officials said Sergeant Fawcett "apparently shot and killed himself" by firing a .45 caliber bullet through his heart while on duty as an air policeman at the base guard house.

Officers said Fawcett fell asleep at the wheel of his automobile on October 26, and it struck a utility pole. The pole snapped and part of the air base was plunged into darkness.

His squadron commander said Fawcett was an "industrious and conscientious man, but he seemed unduly concerned about the accident—not for himself particularly, but for any inconvenience it may have caused."

Staunch Democratic Counties Turn Support To Eisenhower

Nebraska's 93 counties have at least one item in common this week—they all supported Gen. Eisenhower for president.

Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson failed to carry a single Nebraska county—even those which have been voting in the Democratic column in the presidential race for many a year.

For instance, even Howard County, where the last Republican presidential nod is thought to have been made more than a half a century ago, turned its back on the Democratic nominee.

County Clerk Raymond A. Forbes says he believes the last time the county went Republican was in 1900. The county recorded a heavy, although not record, turnout.

In Saline County, the last time voters favored the GOP candidate, Harding, was in 1920. This year, however, 6,918 voters chose Ike. Six thousand is the normal turnout.

Sherman County has refused to support the GOP candidate for 30 years, but this year cast 1,735 votes for Eisenhower, 1,146 to Stevenson.

Raecke Over Crosby

Although the Republican presidential candidate was favored in Sherman County, the county continued to support the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Walter Raecke, and the Democratic treasurer candidate J. K. Farris. Voters gave Raecke 1,541 votes, Crosby 1,243; and Farris, 1,280; Heintze, 1,203.

Sherman County reports the total number of voters, 10 per cent higher than in 1948, as the exact number of presidential votes. In other words, every voter marked the ballot for president. Seventy-two per cent of eligible voters went to the polls.

Demo Since 1924

In Thurston County, Democratic since 1924, voters again chose Ike, George F. McMullen, county clerk, reports. Voting has been heaviest in the past 12 years with more than 3,000 voting this year.

Meanwhile, in Butler County, Democratic for 24 years, voters also were favoring Eisenhower. The vote turnout, although third largest, did not equal the 1940 record or 1944 vote.

Four years ago, six additional counties went for President Truman—Dakota, Douglas, Greeley, Sarpy, Saunders and Wheeler.

New Wyoming Senator Is Former Nebraskan

OMAHA (INS)—Omaha Republicans were taking a personal pride in the upset win of Gov. Frank Barrett over Democrat Incumbent Joseph O'Mahoney in Wyoming's senate race.

Barrett's parents were pioneer residents of Omaha and the new senator was born and reared in Omaha. He is a graduate of the Creighton University law school and is married to the former Alice C. Donoghue of Omaha.

His brother, John C., practices law in Omaha.

'Growing Reaction' To Demos Factor In GOP Win

Election Followed Long-Range Trend, Dr. Schumate Believes

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

As the dust of the Eisenhower landslide settles, the politicos, columnists and "experts" are coming up with the "inside stories" as to what happened: the clever political moves, the campaign mistakes, and personal appeal of the candidates.

Three professors of political science were interviewed Wednesday by The Star as to some of their thoughts on the 1952 campaign as it takes its place in the textbooks.

The sum of their academic views indicated that the swing to a Republican President was "growing reaction to the administration (Democratic party) which finally burst in this election."

Dr. Roger Shumate of the University of Nebraska said the "election was not won or lost by mistakes or clever maneuvering, but like most elections followed long-range trends."

Popularity Decline

He pointed out that the popularity of the Democratic party had declined since the "high point of 1936" to the election of Truman by only a plurality vote in 1948.

Roosevelt defeated Hoover because of the "depression and time for a change sentiments, then gained popularity by solidifying economic and social groups during his first term," he added.

Dr. E. Glenn Callem said the Republicans made a better campaign this election. Eisenhower's "crusade speeches" had more appeal than Dewey's "acceptance speeches."

The Nebraska Wesleyan University faculty member agreed with the others that Eisenhower overshadowed Stevenson in popular appeal. That the military leader's popularity was firmly established before the campaign.

The political scientists discounted somewhat the corruption issue. It was a factor, but not the leading one. The charge against the Truman administration will take a back seat to that of Harding.

'Time For Change'

Two Republican administrations are historically noted for corruption and graft, but both Grant and Harding had Republican successors, Dr. Norman Hill of the University of Nebraska pointed out.

"Korea and time for a change" were the leading factors for Eisenhower, Dr. Hill said. "There was a lot of popular appeal in the statement by Eisenhower that he would visit Korea and the promise of an early peace settlement."

As to the "mistakes" in the campaign all were agreed this question would hover on Truman's participation in the campaign in behalf of Stevenson and the Eisenhower endorsement of McCarthy and Jenner.

One of the faculty members pointed out that Truman could appeal to voters that would not be touched particularly by Stevenson, but left the qeustion moot as to whether the President hindered or helped.

Whether the Democratic party could snap back at the next election was also unanswered. However, it was pointed out that the Republicans ruled for 24 years until 1884, when Grover Cleveland was elected. The Democrat served one term, was defeated at the next election, but returned as President for another four years before administration control again returned to the Republican party until 1912.

Lohr Renamed President Of Oil Marketers

OMAHA (AP)—E. H. Lohr of Columbus, was re-elected president of the Nebraska Petroleum Marketers, Inc., in the association's 32nd annual meeting here Wednesday.

Fred K. Evans, Arapahoe, was re-elected as first vice president. Glenn D. Martin, Falls City, was chosen second vice president.

Jobbers elected to the board of directors include:

Ralph W. Swanson, Omaha; Carl W. Mueller, Columbus; Clayton Petersen, St. Paul, and Don Clarke, Hastings.

Among 15 resolutions adopted were the following:

"We urge the establishment of a bi-partisan, part-time Highway Commission because such an agency is the only way to bring about a proper highway program —and to keep the public informed about it.

"We favor the re-enactment of the law passed unanimously by the 1951 legislature and vetoed by the governor which imposed severe penalties for truck overloads and provided minimum tolerances as allowed every other form of weighing and measuring device to cover conditions beyond the truck operators' control.

"We urge the enactment of a law to provide more equitable taxation of motor vehicles powered by fuels other than gasoline because the present 'equalization' law imposes inequitable burdens on long-distance diesels while permitting L.P.G. powered vehicles to operate with virtually no tax liability.

Rep. Sabath, 86, Dean Of Congress, Is Seriously Ill

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.), the dean of Congress, was reported seriously ill Wednesday night at the Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital.

The 86-year-old legislator underwent a major operation in Chicago last June. He re-entered the hospital several days ago.

An aide said complications set in Wednesday. Mrs. Sabath is at his bedside.

Sabath has served longer than any other man in Congress. He was re-elected Tuesday to a 24th successive term, his service going back to 1907.

Federal Reimbursement To City Schools May Top $60,000 Year

If the Lincoln public schools are able to claim reimbursement for educating children of federal workers or persons working or living on federal property, the amount will be at least $60,000 a year.

Edwin Wahl, coordinator of the survey, based this conservative figure on the fact that at least 400 children are needed to qualify the schools, multiplied by one-half of the current cost per pupil, or $150 in round figures.

Presently, Wahl is surveying children enrolled in Lincoln schools whose parents qualify as "federal workers" under the following conditions:

1. Employees of certain federal or defense agencies (excluding the Post Office and certain federal law enforcement divisions).

2. Employees of a "defense industry" or a firm doing some work under a "defense contract." Commercial and defense workers are distinguished within the firm.

Worth the Effort

Compared with reimbursement possibilities, the cost of the survey is well-worth the effort, Wahl pointed out. Also the survey will become the backbone for future expansion in connection with the re-activated Lincoln Air Force Base.

The school children of "defense workers" can be added to those of parents who "work and or live on federal property." The latter will include mainly Air Force personnel and civilians assigned at the Lincoln base, but can also include "contract workers who are temporarily working on the air base construction."

Wahl admits the survey can become quite complicated, and that it entails pupil accounting by quarters. He doubts that Lincoln can qualify with "defense workers" alone, but predicts there will be little question after the first major influx of personnel, expected by next November.

Avoid Pitfalls

The survey, started early and cotninued, will help Lincoln avoid the pitfalls encountered by another Nebraska city, he added.

An Air Force spokesman estimated that one-third of the personnel of an Air Force Wing (3,000-3,500 men) are married and of that number one-half have children of school-age. He said the number would average two per family. The Lincoln base is scheduled for two wings.

According to federal statutes the number of children for whom assistance can be claimed must equal or exceed three per cent of the average daily attendance in Lincoln schools, or about 400-450.

If the parents of a sufficient number are in any of these three major categories, local schools are reimbursed 50 per cent of the average cost of educating a pupil —currently over $300.

If parents are both federal employees and reside on federal property, the schools receive 100 per cent.

Pond Will Speak To Members Of SPUCC

McCOOK, Neb. —(Lincoln Star Special) — Cal Pond, secretary-manager of the McCook Chamber of Commerce, will be the main speaker at the South Platte United Chambers of Commerce meeting here Thursday Nov. 13.

Prior to the dinner meeting, the committees on advertising—roads —industries will confer. These group meets will be followed by a board of directors gathering.

Mandate, Dulles Says

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (INS)—John Foster Dulles, foreign policy adviser of the Republican party, told the Watertown Daily Times in an interview Wednesday that Gen. Eisenhower's victory at the polls Tuesday is "a mandate to seek better foreign policies."

Dulles, prominently mentioned as the new Republican secretary of state, flew north after voting in New York. He is at his Main Duck, Ont., retreat.

Record Crowd Sees Display On Atomic Energy At NU

Nearly 2,500 persons visited the Atomic Energy exhibit on the University of Nebraska campus Wednesday—by far the largest attendance since its opening on Sunday.

Dr. K. O. Broady, University Extension director, said the doors were opened during Wednesday forenoon to accomodate special groups.

The mobile exhibit, currently touring Nebraska, is sponsored in Lincoln by the University Extension division and the Sunday Journal-Star.

He reminded Lincolnites that Thursday is the last day the exhibit will remain in Lincoln. Hours are 1 to 9 p.m.

The work of the demonstrators, which included science students from all of Lincoln's public and parochial high schools as well as physics students of the University and its ROTC units, was praised by Broady.

Trusty At Pen Escapes While Picking Corn

Thomas Blackfeet, 20-year-old Sioux Indian from Porcupine, S. D., was reported missing from the state penitentiary late Wednesday afternoon when he reportedly walked away from his trusty job of picking corn south of the pen.

Blackfeet, otherwise known as "Teddy" Blackfeet, is described as being of husky build, standing 5 feet 11 inches, weighing 210 pounds, and having a prominent scar on the right side of his head. When last seen, he was wearing a white jacket and trousers, and a blue denim shirt.

According to prison officials, Blackfeet was present at the 3:30 farm detail check, but was missed at the 4 p.m. count. An immediate search was made for his whereabouts.

The escapee was admitted to the penitentiary July 13, 1952, for five years for assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

More Excitement Coming

THE NEXT Exciting thing on the program boys and girls, is the homecoming game on Nov. 15 —we're speaking strictly of the home front, of course— However, we hear that there are those who are looking a bit further into the future— such as Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Latsch, who have plans for the Oklahoma-Nebraska game at Oklahoma City later in November.

* * *

THE APPROACHING week end takes Nebraska to Kansas where the cheering section will be filled with numerous Lincoln people—Leaving on Friday for Kansas City will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynie, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. John Comstock and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews, all of whom will be week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Skinner. On Saturday the group will attend the game, and return to Kansas City.

* * *

OFF TO New Jersey on Wednesday went Mrs. E. J. Fleetwood who will spend two weeks at Montclair with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ramey (Virginia Fleetwood), and to make the acquaintance of her new grandson, Robert, who is just one month old.

From Montclair Mrs. Fleetwood will go to the opposite coast—California — where she will spend the winter with her sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanderson (Evangeline Fleetwood) in Pomona, and Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson (Vivian Fleetwood) in Los Angeles.

* * *

THIS IS the week end that Mrs. Frank Rain and her son, Michael, arrive from St. Louis, Mo., to spend several days as the house guests of Mrs. Rain's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner, and to visit Mrs. Rain's mother, Mrs. Jaye Ridnour.

On Tuesday Mrs. Rain will be honored when Mrs. Mark Walsh of Beatrice entertains at luncheon at her home. Lincoln guests will include Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Ridnour, Mrs. Dana Cole, and Mrs. Wyman Kenagy.

* * *

BACK HOME AGAIN is Mrs. Vernon Thompson who has returned from Europe where she has been spending the past six weeks. Mrs. Thompson joined a tour party and visited London, Belgium, Holland and Germany.

* * *

HAVE A little communique from the University Club which reads: "Keep your summer figure this winter." Turns out that only the masculine contingent are urged to retain the silhouette lines since that figure business was just some propaganda for the club's Squash courts.

* * *

CHECKED UP on the Revelers Dancing Club and learned that the members have a party scheduled for Friday evening, Nov. 21—the first of the season. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the dinner dance at Hotel Cornhusker includes Mr. and Mrs. William Lucas and Dr. and Mrs. John A. Brown, co-chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pansing, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meginnis and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Linzer.

* * *

THAT REMINDS us—The Merrimyx Dancing Club also has a party scheduled for next Saturday evening, at Hotel Cornhusker.

* * *

THE UNIVERSITY of Wichita (Wichita, Kan.,) tells us that Miss Geraldine Kelley has been named first violinist with the University of Wichita Symphony orchestra.

* * *

WEDNESDAY EVENING found Mrs. Jack Stone vice-president of the Lincoln Junior League, and Mrs. Jack Hyland on their way to Denver where they will serve as delegates from the Lincoln League to the Region X conference.

* * *

SPEAKING of travelers—learned that Miss Elizabeth Mallalieu will sail from New Orleans on Saturday, Nov. 8, for a sixteen days Caribbean cruise.

PEO Chapter Plans Meeting

Chapter FF, PEO will meet at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, November 6 at the home of Mrs. Ed Westcott, 3141 Alden. Mrs. John Tidball will assist.

We Hear That

Jim Ahlquist of Belmont, Mass., arrived in Lincoln last week-end to spend ten days as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. George Stroh.

Just Between Us

—separates are shown everywhere. Taffeta skirts with varicolored velvet bands from belt to hem, stiffened lace over satin, bright colored sequin flowers on dark skirts, colorful felts with everything from jet beads to poodles forming the design—these may be worn with any type of top the wearer prefers. The low-necked, long-sleeved mat jersey blouses and sweaters seem to be the most popular.

★

—shoe designers have gone "all out" this season. Flats appear in every possible material from velvet to denim, evening shoes are more bare than ever, and many street and dressy pumps are being shown in two colors and two materials. Heels are more slender and tapered and the new low French heel appears in both walking and dancing shoes—most comfortable.

★

—I was interested in a sign near a golf course in Bermuda: "Beware of Golfers and Flying Golf Balls."

★

—and the usual weather report in "The Royal Gazette" is a commentary on the meteorological service. It goes like this, "No weather report available for tomorrow's weather."

★

—there, as in many calm waters of the United States, a contraption called the "Hydra-Cycle" is popular. Made in France, it consists of two pontoons supporting a double canvas seat in which two occupants recline while operating two sets of pedals that drive a propeller below. It requires much less effort than pedaling a bicycle and is a very sea-worthy craft as the pontoons are made to stand heavy waves.

★

—making perfume from the Passion Flower is a fascinating process in Bermuda. The flowers are placed in glass-covered flats below a layer of a fatty substance that absorbs the fragrance of the flowers. They, incidentally, must be changed every 24 hours. After enough of the aroma has been absorbed the fatty substance is put through the usual process necessary to distill perfume.

★

—in Bermuda, money generally is known as "herbs" and a man with money is characterized as, "He's got herbs." A pound is known locally as a "blue" and a five pound note as a "canary."

Nu Phi Mu Meets Tuesday

Initiation of 11 girls into Unit II of Nu Phi Mu took place on Tuesday, October 28, according to Miss Inez Richtark, president of the club, who presided at the Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, meeting held in the chapter rooms.

The program for the meeting was Sorority Traditions presented by members of the group.

The new officers of the Lincoln Junior Red Cross, who presided at a meeting of the council Wednesday afternoon include: from the left, Sam Van Pelt, vice president; Jim McCartney, president; and Carolyn Schimmel, secretary.

Special guests at the council meeting were four foreign exchange students attending high school in Lincoln who told of the activities of the Junior Red Cross in their native lands. The students are Peter Vioarba of Austria, Anna Verni of Italy, John Baudoin, Belgium, and Ekhard Heintz of Germany.

Miss Frances Watters and Miss Helen Dunlap showed films and spoke on their recent trip to Europe, and the council members discussed project plans. The Junior Red Cross is composed of junior and senior high school students.

Film Works Are Featured

The University of Nebraska department of art has secured for showing, seven experimental films by Norman McLaren, noted Canadian film expert whose unique productions have caused considerable favorable comment throughout Canada and the United States.

There will be two showings of the films, both in Gallery D, Morrill Hall. The first one will be on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 9, at 3 o'clock, and the second one will be presented at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

This series of motion pictures features McLaren's work from his earliest productions down to the present, and included in the group of exceedingly short films are "Finpoint Percussion," "Dots," "Loops," "Hen Hop," "Stars and Stripes," and "Be Gone, Dull Care."

Lincoln PTA Activities

Mrs. Duane Hughes, the president of the PTA has called a meeting of the executive board of RILEY PTA on Friday at 1:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. Plans will be discussed and outlined for the school's fun night which will be held on November 21.

The last in a series of group meetings explaining the new report forms was held at Elliott School, Wednesday afternoon, for the parents of sixth grade pupils. Following the meeting, the parents visited the classrooms.

In charge of arrangements for the meeting were the room mothers, Mrs. R. E. Johnson, Mrs. A. W. Honnor, Mrs. Peter Rasmussen and Mrs. Harold Ernisse.

The annual jitney lunch for pupils and their parents was held Wednesday afternoon by HAYWARD PTA. The room mothers served as hostesses, and Mrs. Herman Hahn, PTA president, presided. The luncheon was planned by members of the executive board.

The members of the SARATOGA School Home Room Mothers' club met on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with Mrs. J. A. Elliot presiding. Special guests for the afternoon included Miss Marie Bourke, principal, Mrs. Earl Ludlum, PTA president, Mrs. Oliver Karraker, chairman of membership, and Mrs. John Spealman, chairman of the budget and finance committee.

The hostesses for the meeting were the mothers of the fourth grade pupils, with Mrs. John Schick, Mrs. Arthur Bausch and Mrs. J. A. Elliot as chairmen.

Woman's Club Bridge Group Meets Friday

The members of the Lincoln Woman's club bridge department will hold their usual meeting on Friday at Hotel Cornhusker. The bridge lecture, presented by the department's instructor, Mrs. Homer Honeywell, will begin at 1:15 o'clock. Mrs. Honeywell's topic will be "Take-Out Doubles."

Miss Dietze Is Honored

Miss Delores Dietze, who will become the bride of Paul Hathaway at a ceremony to be solemnized on Saturday, November 22, has been the honoree at many informal courtesies the past several weeks.

Miss Dietze was the incentive for a luncheon and bathroom shower at which Mrs. W. C. Enslin, Mrs. Fred Dietze, Mrs. William Kibbie and Mrs. Ed Ide were co-hostesses at the home of Mrs. Enslin, and a miscellaneous shower was presented to the bride-to-be at a mother-daughter affair for which Mrs. Frances McCandless and Miss Donna McCandless were hostesses at their home. An out of town guest at the latter affair was Mrs. Alvin Hathaway of Eustis.

A one-gift shower was presented to Miss Dietze and her fiance at a buffet supper and card party for which Mr. and Mrs. Zane Dewey and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoppe were hosts and hostesses at the Hoppe home, and on Saturday, Mrs. Jean Hunter entertained the bride-elect at an "odds and ends" shower, when the guests made a scrapbook for Miss Dietze.

Hear Talks On Hobbies

Members of the Bethany Woman's Club heard talks on hobbies and then saw exhibits of the hobbies when they met at the Bethany Christian Church on Tuesday afternoon, November 4.

Giving talks and their subjects were: Mrs. R. A. Pugsley, leather carving; Mrs. John Erickson, rocks; Mrs. Gerald McCord photography; Mrs. Clifford Johnson, music; Mrs. Charles Korte, glass collection; Miss Inez Cook, hand weaving.

Hostesses for the two o'clock meeting were Mrs. M. L. Quinn, Mrs. Alminea Johnson and Mrs. Mabel Cozad.

Breakfast Club Discusses Plans

The first regular breakfast meeting of the Lincoln Credit Women's Breakfast Club was held Tuesday morning at the Hotel Cornhusker. In place of the usual study meeting, the members discussed plans for the year's programs, and reports were made by committee chairmen.

Miss Mildred Burris was introduced as a new member of the club, and Miss Thelma Applebee, president, announced that the next dinner meeting of the club would feature a program on Scotland and England to be presented by Captin and Mrs. Kennedy of the Salvation Army.

Introducing— The Sidney Pattisons

Mr. and Mrs. Pattison are the first "honeymoon-couple" to engratiate our list of new residents in Lincoln. Married just over a month, they are residing at 140 South Thirtieth street while Mr. Pattison completes his remaining two years in the college of dentistry at the University of Nebraska. In the meantime, Mrs. Pattison will fill in her spare moments with work in the Camp Fire office.

Originally from Kearney, Mr. Pattison moved with his family to Cheyenne, Wyo., about ten years ago where his father resumed ministry in the Presbyterian church. A graduate of the University of Wyoming where he was a member of Kappa Sigma, Mr. Pattison returned to his "home state" to work toward his D.D.S.

Mrs. Pattison met her husband while she attended stewardess' school for five weeks in Cheyenne. With a national airline company for over a year, she flew between Denver, Los Angeles, and San Francisco and managed to see a great deal of this new acquaintance in the mid-west! She is a native of Los Angeles, and was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta at the University of Southern California. An advertising major in college she worked two years before flight training as the ad manager for a hosiery company. Mrs. Pattison's parents not only didn't object to her aerial ambitions, but are taking their first flight to Hawaii soon!

Although the Pattisons enjoy their apartment and the housework that goes with this married life, they would just as soon be on the tennis courts or toting a golf bag. Some of Mrs. Pattison's California training has rubbed of onto her husband, for they both hope sometime to return to the west coast to reside!

A Rugged Age

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Only during the teen-time of her life does la femme long for the accouterments of the years a head of her. During these years, youth is what she wants least of and any withholding of the symbols of adulthood constitutes what seems to be real persecution. There is no doubt about the heartbreak underlying the following letter from one of my young correspondents:

"Don't you think a girl who is fourteen is old enough to wear lipstick and high heels at least at parties? I can't but all my friends can. I feel just like a ghost rider with my pale mouth when all the other girls have on make-up. And my flat-heeled, baby "party" shoes make me just plain ashamed. How can I convince my parents that I'm old enough for such things?"

Of course, the best thing a girl can do when caught in such a predicament is to try to prove to her parents how grown up she really is. If she takes over the care of her room and keeps it as well as her mother could, it's a step in her favor. If she fulfills every promise she makes, it is another point. And if she quietly discusses her wishes and problems with her parents without resorting to tears and impassioned pleas, there should be no doubt about it; she has earned the right to do what all the other girls of her age are doing. But if she does not act old enough to seem anything but silly in such grownup trappings as lipstick and high heels, she should skip them for a bit. At least until she possesses sufficient judgment to use lipstick artistically and the degree of grace needed to manage high heels successfully.

A cross-country survey shows that, in general, girls are allowed to use a little lipstick and face powder on dress-up occasions after they reach thirteen. But rouge and eye make-up are out until after high school is completed. Low-heel pumps but not necessarily flat-heeled styles until a lass is past fifteen.

Any boy is embarrassed when seen with a girl dressing definitely beyond her age. Sequins, black, satin or any other cosmopolite fabrics, gobs of costume or real jewelry or "bank-account" furs are things no student of the "social sciences" would be caught wearing during her high school years.

Singer-Swingers To Meet Friday

The Singer-Swingers Square dance club will meet Friday evening at Park school. From 7 o'clock until 8 o'clock there will be instruction in square dancing after which the remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening include Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Arnold, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Grubb and Mr. and Mrs. George Ramsey.

An Old Stand-By

Macaroni and cheese is just plain good eating. Mold the favorite combination into an attractive ring, fill it with a tasty tomato sauce, and you've got something special to serve for easy dinners almost any time of the year. To make the platter extra attractive, garnish with ripe olives.

For a ring to serve four, you'll need 2 cups of cooked macaroni and 1 cup of shredded process cheese food. Be sure to choose flavorful cheese food which melts in a jiffy for this dish. The economical 2-pound loaf will come in handy in many similar quick-serve meals.

Other ingredients for the mold are ¾ cup milk, 2 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion and 1 teaspoon salt. Combine all ingredients in a bowl. Mix well, then turn into an oiled 1-quart ring mold. Bake for 35 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven (375°F.)

Minerva's Mail

Well, we seem to be back again after a several days absence—Naturally everyone was much more interested in what was going on nationally than they were the Mail—but we missed reading the letters to you—and hope you missed them, too.

This morning we have a letter from Mrs. L. P., in answer to the letter of complete frustration we had from L. D. several days ago—It's a fine, philosophical letter and I know you will enjoy reading it.

Dear Minerva:

This is just a scribble but I had to say something on L. D.'s letter before it got cold.

I'm sure I'm not exaggerating when I say that everyone—everyone has days like hers. The trouble is that people who could reassure you like to heighten your distress by smiling amusedly as if to say "But my dear, such a thing could never happen in a well-regulated home." It took years before I could realize that it isn't only brides who have baking failures, or inexperienced mothers whose children misbehave at the wrong times. I suffered under the delusion that I was the only mother in our neighborhood whose home was always upset—until my children were old enough that I could return some visits to my neighbors.

Now, they shrug and say, "Oh you're so easy going. Nothing ever bothers you!" Ha! I have learned that it pays to control the hysteria that threatens at the sight of the messes and broken treasures which follow children wherever they go. If I seem easy-going to my children, it seems to help. The more tense I become the worse they behave. When I feel like laughing (even though it isn't supposed to be good discipline), I laugh. I too had a disaster with my cosmetics not long ago, but the sight of my six-year old done up in her version of glamour was too much for me and when I was over my laughing fit, we cleaned up the mess together in very friendly humor.

Even my two year old obligingly brings the mop and scrubs away at spilled milk. While he usually makes matters worse, the sight of his earnest effort usually restores my good humor.

Last but certainly most important, I know that my children aren't going to be with me forever. (My this has gotten to be a long letter. I didn't intend to write a book). The things that happen now are making up their memories of home. When they grow up and have families of their own, I want them to remember their home with pleasure and want them to bring their own children back to grandma's!

Sincerely,
L. P.

To Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Wolf will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary next Sunday, Nov. 9, when they entertain informally at an open house to be held at their home, 2222 Van Dorn. Their friends are invited to call between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock Sunday evening.

Annual Diabetics Detection Drive Set Nov. 16-22

The fourth annual Diabetes Detection Drive to find Nebraska's unknown and untreated diabetics will be held Nov. 16 to 22.

Dr. Morris Margolin of Omaha, chairman of the Diabetes Committee of the Nebraska State Medical Association, sponsors of the drive, said that the detection program will be held in conjunction with national Diabetes Week. This particular week, he said is held each year to find the 1,000,000 persons in the United States who have the disease.

Members of the medical association's Diabetes Committee besides Dr. Margolin, are Dr. Floyd Rogers of Lincoln, acting state health director, and Dr. S. N. Rathbun of Beatrice.

Dr. Margolin pointed out that to help detect the disease the committee is urging every Nebraskan to have a test taken by his family physician. He said that if diabetes is found in early stages, it can usually be brought under control, thus allowing the patient to resume normal living habits.

He explained that "diabetes is said to be a disease of complications since the person having it is an easy victim for many other diseases."

Glassford Sends Huskers Through Defensive Drill

Kansas Varsity Holds Frosh To Small Gains

By the Associated Press

LAWRENCE, Kas.—Two Kansas defensive platoons made it tough on freshmen running Nebraska plays in an hour-long scrimmage Wednesday.

Hard tackling and alertness by the varsity gave the frosh little chance to make good gains either on the ground or in the air.

Coach Jules Sikes said his squad is mentally ready for the Nebraska game Saturday but will have to play harder because several regulars have injuries. The squad will stay in Topeka Friday night to escape the confusion of homecoming celebrations.

Defense Day At KS

MANHATTAN, Kas. — Kansas State's varsity squad drilled on defense against Wyoming's single wing plays and ran through its own attack in a short scrimmage.

Coach Bill Meek said Jack McShulskis, end, definitely will not be able to play in Saturday's game because of a lame knee. Halfback Corky Taylor, who twisted an ankle Tuesday, did not work out. His availability for the Wyoming game still is uncertain.

Sooners Brew Secret

NORMAN, Okla.—There's something brewing at the secret University of Oklahoma football workouts—and partisan fans hope it will spell trouble with Notre Dame this Saturday.

Coach Bud Wilkinson explained only there will be no scrimmaging between now and Saturday to make sure the team is in top form to meet the powerful, tricky Irish.

Wilkinson said he believes Buddy Leake will be ready to go. The halfback has missed two games, other than kicking extra points, since he injured an ankle against Kansas.

Buffs Take It Easy

BOULDER, Colo. — The Colorado University Buffaloes went through a light workout with no scrimmage probably their last before their Saturday game with Missouri at Columbia.

Coach Dal Ward was scheduled to leave Denver by train with his squad Thursday evening. He said he had no plans for any practice on the Missouri field.

Tiger Rowekamp Back

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Bill Rowekamp, University of Missouri halfback, who has been nursing a sprained ankle since Missouri won from Nebraska at Lincoln last Saturday, was back in uniform as the Tigers worked on offense, but was still not able to do much work.

Coach Don Faurot, however, said he still is hopeful that Rowekamp will play when Missouri meets Colorado here next Saturday afternoon.

Cyclones Scrimmage

AMES, Ia.—Coach Abe Stuber tossed a lengthy, unplanned scrimmage at the Iowa State Cyclones as they prepare for their traditional intra-state rival, Drake, here Saturday.

The one-hour session pitted the varsity offense against the first defensive team. The offensive backfield was Bill Plantan, quarterback; Dick Cherpinsky and Emery Eichorn, halfbacks, and Paul Shupe, fullback.

YMCA Cage Clinic Scheduled Tonight

A basketball clinic, sponsored by the YMCA in conjunction with the City Church League, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at First Plymouth Congregational Church.

Under the direction of Buford Johnson, YMCA physical director, the Noon Volleyball Club will demonstrate basketball fundamentals. All persons attending the clinic will also have an opportunity to participate.

On Thursday night, Nov. 13, the Church League season opens with all six teams playing. Church sponsors are First Plymouth Congregational, First and Second Presbyterian, First Church of Nazarene, East Lincoln Christian and Trinity Methodist.

USGA Picks Ardmore For Curtis Cup Play

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States Golf Association Wednesday selected the Merion Golf Club, Ardmore, Pa., as the site for the 1954 women's international golf matches for the Curtis Cup. The dates will be set later.

Leafs-Blackhawks Tie

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs tied the Chicago Blackhawks for first place in the National Hockey League race Wednesday night, beating the tail-end New York Rangers, 4-1.

The Firing Line

Kansas Can Be Beaten

AMIDST all of the gloom surrounding the oncoming doings at Lawrence, may we cast a happy vote?

All is not hopeless, all is not impossible. Don't cancel your tickets just yet.

Nebraska can beat Kansas.

Food for the looney factory, you say. Aw g'wan!

Nebraska can beat Kansas by out-defensing 'em. By that, we mean an overall blanket that covers both running plays and passes.

To accomplish this miracle, the Husker defensive line and secondary would have to come up with their peak performances of the year.

Charley Hoag

Not yet has Bill Glassford's defense met a combined running and passing attack anywhere nearly the equal of what will be faced Saturday.

Colorado had passing and running, to be sure, but the aerial side was pretty well concentrated in one thrower, Zack Jordan. Superb rushing by the line kept Mr. Jordan a bit hurried and uncertain. There was no other aerial agent to supplement him.

The trouble is Saturday that Kansas' aerial game is a three-ply affair.

There is Jerry Robertson, the icy-veined Texan who waits until the very last instant and then fires with pin-point accuracy. The pros, who appreciate quality passing, rate him one of the very best collegiate prospects.

There is Gil Reich, the West Point transfer. Reich is a deadly passer and knows what to do on that dread optional play. After Kansas was briefly stymied against Kansas State, Reich slipped into the quarterback role and produced three touchdowns in 10 minutes.

There is Charley Hoag, the big hoss with mercury in both hooves. Charley can outspeed your ends and he can throw on the dead run. He, and he alone, was responsible for the Jays' win over the Huskers a year ago.

Add that trio with Bob Brandeberry, a ground-eating halfback with speed, power and an uncanny knack of nailing his holes, and you grasp the versatility of the Jayhawk attack.

IF ONE of the trio of passers is having an off day, there is always a replacement. The law of averages says that at least one guy will be throwing well.

Suppose the entire aerial game bogs down. Well, the Jays have the running attack and the crisp-blocking offensive line to still overcome the bog.

By this, you gather that Kansas can be beaten only by being out-defensed. Oklahoma beat 'em that way in a close game where, offensively, quarterback Eddie Crowder made the difference.

Nebraska has shown the defensive fire for this chore, especially in the line. That Husker line has yet to be shoved around at will and the secondary, at times, has shown the tightest aerial defense of the Glassford regime.

That's the only hope Saturday—a peak defensive performance. Given that, maybe the Huskers can force the breaks for a few touchdowns.

We've said it before and we'll repeat: This current gang of Huskers are not the team we like to bet against.

Bordogna Is 11th In Total Offense

Quarterback John Bordogna picked up two places in the national total offense standings last week. Bordogna moved from 13th to 11th on the strength of the 189 yards he put together against Missouri.

Although no other Big Seven players figured in the total offense top twenty, Billy Vessels and Buck McPhail of Oklahoma and Ralph Curtis of Colorado rank seventh, eighth and 14th in rushing.

Light Prep Grid Slate Tonight

The Northeast Rockets journey to Sioux City tonight to take on East High in the top game of an otherwise light grid slate.

Getting early tests this week will be Crawford at Hemingford, St. Mary's of Grand Island at St. Cecilia's of Hastings, St. Agnes of Alliance at St. Patrick's of North Platte, Wilcox at Axtell, Plymouth at St. Joseph's of Beatrice, Miller at Farnam, Stapleton at Paxton, Spalding Academy at Sacred Heart of Norfolk.

37 Frosh Report For First NU Cage Drills

Thirty-seven freshmen have reported for basketball at the University of Nebraska. Additions to the squad are expected as soon as frosh football drills end two and a half weeks hence.

W. D. (Tony) Sharpe is coaching the frosh squad.

Working out are the following players:

Warren Ahrens, St. Edward; David Barnes, Lincoln; Loren Beckman, Garland; Dave Bell, Omaha; Bill Black, Scottsbluff; Weldon Borgaard, Lincoln; Bob Brown, Fairbury; Don Brown, Omaha; Duane Buel, Malcolm; Rex Christenson, Lincoln; Gary Cortner, Loup City; Ward David, Palisade; Bob Ebers, Lincoln.

Phil Haas, Rock Valley, Ia.; Bob Hansen, Minden; Ron Hansen, Galesburg, Ill.; Jerry Hare, Grand Island; Haynes Harrington, Anderson, Ind.; Gary Heinzle, North Platte; Andy Hove, Minden; Harold Jewitt, Waverly; Kenneth Johnson, David City; Don Keiser, Millard; Ben Meckel, Lincoln; Marion Panowicz, Wolbach.

Loren Petersen, Johnson; Joe Poynter, Kearney; Bob Prohop, Wilber; Bill Roy, Berwyn, Ill.; Don Sirles, Omaha; Dean Sloan, Lincoln; Charles Smith, Anderson, Ind.; Glen Sullivan, Omaha; John Trenery, Omaha; Russ Uehling, Uehling; Orvis Wall, Lincoln, and Wayne Westphal, Elkhorn.

Vacanti Adds Page To Football Career

Sam Vacanti, onetime University of Nebraska footballer, has added another page to his checkered gridiron career.

Called back into the Marine Corps from his coaching post at Fairbury High School, the 30-year-old ex-Omaha Tech flash has been an important part of the Parris Island, S. C., Marine team.

Vacanti scored a touchdown and kicked two extra points as his mates tied Villanova, 20-20.

Prior to playing with the Marines, Vacanti had been a member of Purdue's Big Ten champion team in 1942, played a season at Iowa U. and for three years played pro ball—two with the Chicago Rockets and another with the Baltimore Colts.

Mexican Rider Wins National Jump Contest

NEW YORK (INS) — Captain Victor Carillo of the Mexican Army team won the international jumping contest in Madison Square Garden.

Capt. Colin O'Shea of the Irish Army team was second, William Steinkraus of Westport, Conn., and star of the American team who won two international events earlier, was third and Mrs. Carol Durand of Kansas City, only woman competitor among the 15 contestants, tied with Capt. Lewis Magee of the Irish team for fourth place.

NU Special Departs 6:15

Some 400 Husker grid fans are scheduled to depart via special train at 6:15 a.m. Saturday for Lawrence, Kas., where they will witness the Nebraska-Kansas game.

The local Elks lodge, sponsoring organization, said that the train would leave the Burlington depot promptly at 6:15.

Vanek Gets Promotion

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Ed Vanek was promoted to the first defensive platoon at right half Wednesday replacing Floyd White as Northwestern was ushered through a defensive scrimmage in grooming for Wisconsin.

Georgia Tech Accepts Sugar Bowl Invitation

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets—undefeated in 21 games—will appear in the Sugar Bowl classic at New Orleans, Jan. 1.

The New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association Wednesday announced acceptance of the bid—Tech's eighth post-season bowl contest — after agreement was reached with Head Coach and Athletic Director Bobby Dodd on ticket allocations.

The Rambling Wrecks—the top team in the nation in the International News Service coast-to-coast survey—were offered a choice of the three major uncommitted bowls—Cotton, Orange and Sugar—last weekend after its equally mighty defensive and offensive platoons dumped Duke.

Tech's players voted against the Cotton Bowl, because of the distance involved, expressed a preference for the Sugar Bowl, but left the final choice up to Dodd. He said his primary interest was in sufficient tickets for Tech supporters. The Sugar Bowl won the ducat battle, offering 13,000; the Orange Bowl but 10,000.

Most of the players on Tech's present squad played last year in the Orange Bowl at Miami, where the Jackets defeated Baylor, 17-14.

Big Ten Playoff Set For Nov. 19

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—The Big Ten Conference football playoff will be held here Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 2 p.m., it was reported Wednesday by Noel Lawrence, Senior High School principal.

Grand Island will represent the East Division of the circuit and Scottsbluff or Alliance will be the West Division representative. Scottsbluff and Alliance will clash at Alliance next Tuesday and the Bluffs need a victory or a tie to earn the West Division championship.

Ordinarily, the game would have been scheduled for the week-end of Nov. 14. The delay this year was caused by the lateness of the Scottsbluff-Alliance game.

Golfer Ike Won't Lack Competition In New Position

NEW YORK (AP)—It looks like a golfing administration in Washington for the next four years.

President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, an all-around sports fan, finds his recreation playing golf. If he's looking for a foursome in the nation's capital, the voters thoughtfully provided these partners:

National Amateur champion Jack Westland, successful in the race for a congressional seat in the State of Washington.

Prescott Bush, former president of the United States Golf Association, elected to fill an unexpired term as senator from Connecticut.

Barry Goldwater, a low-handicap golfer who entered the 1952 amateur championship but failed to qualify, elected representative from Arizona.

Cronin Still Out

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Injured quarterback Jim Cronin of Chicago was still on the sidelines Wednesday as Marquette's gridders prepared for their clash with undefeated Miami of Ohio here Friday night.

ROCKET LINE BULWARK—Jim Pavey, 265-pound Northeast tackle, faces some of the huskiest opposition of the season tonight as the Rockets wind up their season at Sioux City against East High School's Black Raiders. (Star Photo.)

Rockets Wrap Up '52 Season Against Black Raiders Tonight

BY WAYNE PANTER
Star Sports Staff Member

NORTHEAST, fresh from a rousing 18-0 victory over touted Omaha Benson which earned the Rockets a spot in the top ten ratings immediately behind the "Big Four" of state prep football, jaunts to Sioux City tonight for an interstate battle with a brand-new rival, Sioux City East.

While the outcome will have little significance where state standings are concerned, it offers the Rockets the opportunity to close out the season with one of the best records in recent years.

Only blotches on the Black and White escutcheon are the loss to top-rated Lincoln High and a one-point defeat by Omaha South. The Black Raiders, meanwhile, have not fared as well.

Coach Gene Farrell's club—along with other Sioux City teams, was hampered at the season's start when a polio epidemic caused cancellation of all grid activity during the month of September.

The Raiders' abbreviated schedule includes wins over Winner, S. D., Leeds of Sioux City, a loss to Marshaltown, Ia., and last week's 7-7 tie with crosstown rival Central.

Veteran Halfback Jim Blake spearheads a fast, single-wing offensive formation. A pair of hefty tackles — 180-pound Don McCue and 200-pound Tom Wolff—offer a stern challenge to Jim Pavey, 265-pound Rocket tackle, and Guard Jack Childress, whose 215 pounds comprise the peak weights in the Northeast line.

Larry Delaney, who took over the quarterback slot for injured Howard Thrapp last week and turned in a top flight performance, has been named by Coach Bun Galloway to open against the Black Raiders. Thrapp has recovered from the charley horse which kept him out last week and will see considerable action, Galloway said.

Heading up the Rocket corps of ball - carriers will be Junior Thomas and Ken Forbes, who between them averaged four yards per carry in shouldering the bulk of the offensive load against Benson.

The Rockets are scheduled to leave Lincoln at 1:15 p.m. for the game, which is scheduled to get under way at 8 p.m. at Sioux City Public Schools Stadium.

Gophers Subs Ready

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Coach Wes Fesler used more Minnesota football players with the first team Wednesday than any other practice all season, indicating he may strive to keep fresh men in the game when the Gophers play Purdue here next Saturday.

It is expected that Fesler will substitute Freely against Purdue, the big Ten leader, in an effort to get harder tackling and blocking.

Kansas Boasts Enviable Running, Passing Attack

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

LOOKING at Kansas' impressive offensive totals, Coach J. William Glassford sent his Nebraska Cornhuskers through a long defensive drill Wednesday.

Glassford says he fears Jayhawk passing and running in equal proportions.

Quarterbacks Jerry Robertson and Gil Reich and Halfback Charley Hoag are all accurate throwers. And Reich and Hoag team with Halfback Bob Brandeberry to give the Jays one of the Big Seven's strongest running attacks.

Kansas has picked up 2,436 yards rushing in winning six of seven games. The Huskers have gained 2,453 yards on the ground in seven outings.

Kansas has an edge of 934 to 704 yards over the Huskers in the passing department.

Glassford announced several lineup changes, all effecting the offensive platoon.

Bill Schabacker and Dennis Emanuel, regular defensive ends, will see starting duty on offense "if the weather is cool," according to Glassford.

George Prothaska has been moved from guard to a starting position at right tackle. Harvey Goth will be at the other tackle.

Kay Curtis will start at left guard, but the right guard post will be contested by Charley Bryant and Jerry Paulson.

Bryant, Omaha South soph, will be seeking his first starting assignment.

"If he continues to improve, I think that Bryant will be a fine guard," commented Glassford.

Glassford also paused to compliment the improved play of Bob Wagner, sophomore offensive guard from Lincoln.

Wagner, 196-pounder who learned his football in the Marine Corps, has made rapid strides.

Bob Oberlin will draw the nod at center. John Bordogna will start at quarterback; Bob Reynolds at left halfback; Dierks Rolston at right halfback, and George Cifra at fullback.

Rolston, Forsyth, Mont., scooter, has not seen varsity action since the Oregon game which he started. He has been injured.

Glassford said there would be no changes in his defensive platoon.

Carl Brasee, Omaha senior linebacker, will be game captain.

The only scout on the road Saturday will be Bob Faris, who will watch Minnesota play Purdue.

A party of 37 frosh squad members will watch the Kansas-Husker game. They will leave by chartered bus Saturday morning. The Husker varsity departs Friday morning by chartered bus and will headquarter in Topeka.

University of Nebraska football season ticket holders who wish to retain their same seats for the 1953 home games must have their re-order blanks in the Coliseum Ticket Office by Nov. 22, Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski states.

Reserved bleacher seats at $3.50, tax included, are available for the Minnesota-Nebraska game to be played in Lincoln, Nov. 15, Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski announced.

The University of Nebraska rifle team will fire a shoulder-to-shoulder match with the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Saturday morning.

Major John Tanner announced that the Nebraska team would be chosen from these riflemen: John McElhaney, Lincoln; Howard Diedrichsen, Omaha; Richard Jackson, Omaha; Paul Jordan, Lincoln; Philip Perry, Fort Wayne, Ind.; William Norris, Lincoln; Duane McCutchan, Nelson; Donald Overholt, Omaha; Bruce Lippke, Frederich, S. D.; Richard McKee, Bartley; Donald Oden, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Gus Wolf, Omaha.

Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski of the University of Nebraska Athletic Department is having new troubles.

Season football ticket holders are sending in the back of their season books instead of the front cover which is the re-order blank.

"We cannot accept anything except the re-order blanks," he said, adding, "and these must be in the Coliseum Ticket Office by November 22."

Ed Crowder Is Hard To Spot On TV

Sooner General To Be Man Of Hour Saturday

BY JERRY LIKSA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — If there's a man for Notre Dame and the nation's TV fans to watch in Saturday's Oklahoma-Irish game, it's Sooner quarterback Eddie Crowder, a 175-pound football magician.

Crowder a slick manipulator of hands-offs, pitch-outs and "keep" plays, is the trigger of Oklahoma's devastating split-T attack which leads the country in scoring with 251 points and in rushing with 295.2 yards per game.

The unbeaten, but once-tied Sooners, ranked fourth in the national Associated Press poll, are one of the few remaining proponents of a strictly running game.

The reason they run so well is Crowder's deception.

Such opponents as Pittsburgh, Texas, Kansas, Kansas State and Iowa State were embrassed no end, chasing Oklahoma fullback Buck Phail down the middle, while Crowder "hipped" the ball for business elsewhere.

Oklahoma has averaged only 11 passes a game, while carrying the ball 62 times.

Coach Bud Wilkinson of the Sooners has a theory that passing wastes time since the clock is stopped on incompletions.

Of Oklahoma's 35 touchdowns to date, only seven came on passes. Notre Dame has scored 17 touchdowns, two by passes, in whipping Purdue, Texas, North Carolina and Navy, while tying Penn and losing to Pittsburgh.

That the Irish haven't profited more through the air is not for lack of trying. They have pitched 125 passes against 66 for Oklahoma in six games.

If Crowder (No. 16) is bewitching the TV cameras Saturday with his sleight-of-hand, Notre Dame quarterback Ralph Guglielimi No. 3 will be just as busy tossing the sphere. Guglielimi has tried 89 tosses for 43 completions against a 17 for 26 passing record by Crowder.

Robertson Warns Plainsmen Of Possible Upset By Warriors

COACHES at Nebraska Wesleyan Wednesday put the finishing touches on their plans for the invasion by the Midland College Warriors Friday night.

But all was not calm and serene in the Plainsman camp as the Plainsmen awaited their date with Coach Woody Greeno's Warriors.

Coach Roy Robertson spoke in terms of a possible upset, and his assistants agreed that such could be possible.

"There isn't a better coached team in this conference than Greeno's first offensive eleven," Robertson said. "We were up for Hastings last week. If Midland is up, and we have a lapse, that could be the story of the ball game."

Robertson expressed particular fear of the speedy Midland backfield, averaging but 150.7 per man, but capable of moving the ball the distance on any given play, both on the outside or on quick openers through the middle.

"If our defense plays as it did against Hastings, we'll be all right," Assistant Marvin Franklin commented. "One mistake and they can scoot."

Meanwhile Robertson said that Bob Lawson, David City defensive halfback, will be back in the game along with Allen Guard Douglas Lund and Waverly Halfback Glenn Reed, all of whom missed the Hastings tussle.

The Plainsmen, bruised almost as a team after last week's bruising game with Hastings, were spared heavy workouts this week, spending the practice sessions polishing both offensive and defensive weapons against Midland formations.

This game could develop into a great offensive show between Midland halfbacks Don Winter and Jack Tiedgen, and Wesleyan aces Wes Hultquist, Glenn Reed, and Cliff Kahl. Each team boasts an excellent passing attack as well.

'Dead' Nag Better Than A Live One

FONTWELL, England (AP) — A dead horse—and that's official—galloped to victory in the first race at the Fontwell Track Wednesday. It paid 6 to 1.

The animal, named Crisel, was described as dead in a Jockey Club list of horses no longer in training sent around to the nation's tracks Tuesday.

Said a Jockey Club official: "There seems to have been a clerical error."

Japanese Swimmer Decides To Retire; To Drill Olympians

TOKYO (INS)—Japan's greatest swimmer of all-time, "Flying Fish" Hironoshin Furuashi, Wednesday announced his retirement from active competition and said he will devote his time to the training of the younger generation for the next Olympics.

His decision was revealed in a letter to the president of the Furuhashi Supporter's Club in the city of Hamamatsu in Shizuoka prefecture.

In the letter the ex-Nippon university star apologized for the dismal showing he made in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki this summer.

Furuhashi who captained the Japanese swimming team placed last in the 400-meter finals. He reflected the poor showing of the Japanese who failed to cop a single gold medal after returning to Olympic competition for the first time in 16 years.

Still 24 years of age, Furuhashi wrote an end to a seven year career which saw him revolutionize the swimming world.

During his peak year in 1948, the "Flying Fish" shattered every free-style record in the books from the 400-meters up to the 1,500. His phenomenal 18 minutes and 19 seconds for the 1,500 meters still stands as a world record today.

Pro Cagers End Holdout

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick McGuire and Max Zaslofsky, two of the stars of the New York Knickerbockers, ended their holdouts Wednesday.

The Knicks said a "compromise" settlement was made with both of the cage aces. Both players had been holding out for more money.

Ex-Prep Duo Sets Big 10 Aerial Mark

CHICAGO (AP)—An old high school passing combination has produced a new Big Ten aerial mark.

End Joe Collier of Northwestern, snagging 22 tosses from his Rock Island, Ill., High School teammate, Quarterback Diek Thomas, has compiled a record 475 yards on receptions in four league games.

With three conference games left, Collier not only is well ahead of the old yardage record of 394 by Northwestern's Don Stonesifer in 1950, but also threatens Stonesifer's 1950 record of 28 catches.

Collier has speared five touchdown passes, tying fullback Max Schmaling of Purdue and halfback Howie Cassady of Ohio State for the conference scoring lead at 30 points each.

The top conference rusher, according to official statistics released Wednesday, is Michigan's halfback Ted Kress, who also leads in total offense. Kress has averaged 5.9 yards per carry and has a combined running and passing yardage of 734 in four games.

Front-running Purdue has the leading conference passer in quarterback Dale Samuels, whose 31 completions in 48 tries has produced 378 yards, six touchdowns and a remarkable 64.6 percentage.

Frick Tells New Bonus Rule Plans

Aimed At Curbing Big Sums To Green Players

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick Wednesday cleared up the beclouded details of the radical legislation changes to be presented to the baseball executives for approval at the annual convention in Phoenix, Ariz., next month.

At a press conference, Frick outlined the proposed new bonus law recommended by a committee especially formed for that purpose, and explained other recommended legislation including changes in the trade and waiver rules.

An important rule change provides for the trading deadline to be extended from June 15 to July 15 after which no player transactions can be made other than by the waiver route. That also includes interleague exchanges.

After July 15, a club desiring to send a player to another league must first obtain waivers from all clubs in both leagues, with the lowest club in the standings getting first crack at him.

Frick emphasized that the bonus proposal was merely a recommendation of the executive council and must be approved by the executives, before it can become baseball law.

"I'm convinced some form of bonus legislation is necessary," he said, "in order to stop the ridiculously huge sums of money now being spent on untried bonus players who have never thrown a ball or swung a bat in organized baseball.

"The new bonus law, if it is adopted, will in no way prohibit any owner from paying whatever he pleases to a free agent. But it will cause the owners to be careful about signing a bonus player unless he felt reasonably certain the youngster would make good."

Under the proposed rule, the bonus tag is applied to any lad paid in excess of $4,000 by a club in the majors or minors down to Class A, or in excess of $3,000 by a club in Class B, C, or D. This includes salary except in the case of a major league player, whose minimum salary is $5,000.

A major league bonus player must be retained at least two years before he can be optioned to the minors. A minor league bonus player cannot be recalled by a major league club for one year and is subject to unrestricted draft. Once he survives this probationary period, he is no longer to be considered a bonus player.

Under the provisions recommended by the council, executives of the clubs are required to sign affidavits, together with the players, certifying that the amounts and considerations given on the contracts represent the entire compensation paid the players.

Should the designated official of a club be found guilty of certifying to a false amount, the fine shall be not less than $2,000 to a major league club, and not less than $1,000 to a minor league club. In addition, the player shall be declared a free agent.

The proposed rules become effective on the date of final adoption by both major and minor leagues.

Voters Set Ike Up With Golf Partners

NEW YORK (INS)—President-elect Eisenhower—who shoots in the low 80s—won't lack for golf partners in official Washington, if he doesn't mind stiff competition.

Jack Westland, the 1952 national amateur champion, is a newly-elected representative from the state of Washington. Elected to the Senate were Prescott Bush, former president of the USGA, from Connecticut and Barry Goldwater, who has played in the National amateur several times, from Arizona.

Ace UCLA Passer Named Back Of The Week By AP

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Cameron, the sharp-shooting passer of UCLA's unbeaten and untied Bruins, Wednesday was named the Associated Press' back of the week.

The 6-foot, 185-pound tailback in UCLA's attack, finally shook off a season-long injury jinx and gave California the business full time last Saturday.

He threw two touchdown passes and directed the ground attack that produced a third score in the 28-7 UCLA victory.

There were many other outstanding candidates for the week's honor. Georgia Tech's terrific trio of Leon Hardeman, Glenn Turner and Bill Teas were mentioned for their stellar play against Duke; Don Heinrich, the U. of Washington's passing wizard, was hailed for heaving three touchdown passes against Oregon State and gaining 165 yards via the air lanes; Illinois' Tommy O'Connell completed 14 passes, two for touchdowns, in the Illini's upset of Michigan.

Three Grapplers Shot In Barroom

TOULOUSE, France (AP)—Three wrestlers, one British, one Canadian and one a Belgian, were wounded early Wednesday in a barroom shooting incident here in Southwestern France.

They got into an argument with another patron, who drew a pistol in ordering them out. Pat Curry of Canada was shot in the abdomen. British champion Tommy Mann was shot in the kidneys and Mad Deghom of Belgium was shot in the left shoulder and chest. Their condition is serious.

The French pistol wielder was jailed.

Constitution Changes Win Majority But Passage Undecided

35 Pct. Of Total Vote Necessary

Six constitutional amendments appeared to have received approval of a majority of those voting upon them, but it may not have been done decisively enough to put all them into effect.

The stumbling block is that to become effective the affirmative vote must be 35 per cent of all those balloting in the election. Thus, those not voting in effect voted against the amendments. An amendment can get a majority vote and still not have enough for adoption.

Assuming that the total vote should be 580,000 or more as is indicated, it would require at least 203,000 votes in favor of an amendment for its adoption.

Pay Hike Doubted

The best chance of meeting this requirement appeared to be the amendment to reduce from four to three times the number of times a proposed amendment must be published in newspapers. It was a non-controversial money saving measure.

In turn least likelihood of success was the amendment to increase pay of legislators from $872.09 a year to $1,250. The old pay schedule was set in 1934. Voting reflected Nebraska's often noted reluctance to approve anything that is going to cost money.

Showing surprise strength in view of the opposition by officials of the State Teachers Association who feared loss of revenue for schools was the amendment to permit the Legislature to change the system of taxing motor vehicles.

State Board

Also a good vote getter was the amendment to create a State Board of Education similar to the Board or Regents for the state university to replace the present elected state superintendent. The board would employ the chief administrative officer.

Other amendments proposed included one to permit the compensation of all members of a court, board or commission to be changed at the beginning of the full term of any member. Under present law where staggered terms are used the supreme court, county commissioners and others are faced with members drawing different salries.

Another proposal would increase the number of members in case a Constitutional convention should be called. Present provision was made during the bicameral and provided membership be based on the number in the lower house.

★ ★ ★ ★ All Opposed Incumbent District Judges In State Are Returned

OMAHA (AP)—Every incumbent district judge opposed in Tuesday's election apparently has been returned to the bench.

There were only four contests among the 18 judicial districts in the state, and in every instance the incumbent judge either has won or held a substantial lead on the basis of nearly complete returns.

In the first district made up of Johnson, Nemaha, Pawnee and Richardson Counties Virgil Falloon of Falls City led Ernest F. Armstrong of Auburn 10,212 to 7,919 on the basis of 73 of 74 precincts. The returns included all but one small precinct in Armstrong's home county.

17th District

In the third or Lancaster County district, which includes Lincoln, three district judges seeking return to the bench were returned, and one newcomer was elected to a judgeship.

The newcomer is Paul W. White, who edged out Robert Devoe.

In the 17th judicial district, made up of Garden, Newell, and Scotts Bluff Counties, incumbent C. G. Perry held a two-to-one lead over William H. Heiss with returns in from 33 of 37 precincts. Perry had polled 6,340 votes and Heiss 3,517. All nine incumbents in the fourth district, made up of Douglas, Burt and Washington County, and including Omaha, appeared re-elected on the basis of 263 of 268 precincts.

Judges Listed

The incumbents and their votes: James T. English, 83,312; James M. Fitzgerald, 82,649; Henry J. Beal, 75,615; Jackson B. Chase, 71,813; James M. Patton, 69,769; Carroll O. Stauffer, 67,293.

Trailing the incumbents were: Kelso Morgan, 49,680; Henry Payne 37,261; William J. Lindsay, 41,210; Leslie D. Carter, 34,590; Theodore L. Richling 37,983; Ralph R. Bremers 30,552.

Those district judges elected without opposition all incumbents, are:

2nd judicial district: John M. Dierks, Nebraska City.
5th: Harry D. Landis, Seward; H. Emerson Kokjer, Wahoo.
6th: Robert D. Flory, Columbus; Russell R. Robinson, Fremont.
7th: Stanley Bartos, Wilber.
8th: Sidney T. Frum, South Sioux City.
9th: Lyle E. Jackson, Neligh; Fay H. Pollock, Stanton.

Chavez Wins Over Pat Hurley

SANTA FE, N. M. (INS) — Patrick J. Hurley, Republican contender for the Senate in New Mexico and apparent loser, Wednesday challenged the vote of four counties.

Sen. Chavez

Hurley trailed Sen. Chavez, the Democratic incumbent, by more than 5,000 votes as tabulations for the state's 849 precincts neared completion. The Democrat was considered the winner.

Hurley refused to concede. He obtained court orders and succeeded in impounding the ballots from Taos, Mora, San Miguel and Guadalupe Counties.

All four counties have proportionately heavy Spanish-speaking population, and were carried by Chavez by an aggregate majority of 2,700.

Hurley apparently will demand an official check of the voting and tabulating in all four counties. He told International News Service, "I have just begun to fight."

Austria Seen As 'Buffer State' If Russ Would Leave

If the Russians can be persuaded to leave Austria, which is strongly anti-Communist, that nation will form a balancing or buffer state between the East and West, said Henry Schreiner at a Hiram Club meeting.

Schreiner, who is an Austrian graduate student in biological chemistry at the University of Nebraska, maintains that such a move would enable Austria to be neutral, and would help it "stabilize the present political order in Europe."

"If Russia can agree on withdrawing from Austria, it can agree on other points," Schreiner pointed out.

He said it is the hope of Austria that the Potsdam Agreement, permitting Russian occupation in parts of Austria, can be cancelled or amended.

The speaker also described the control by Russia over industry and the Danube River and its disagreement over several points in the peace treaty being formed by deputy foreign ministers.

Morse Stays Silent On How He Will Vote

... Sends Wire To Truman

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Morse, Ore., whose vote could determine control of the new Senate, declined Wednesday to say whether he will vote with the Democrats or the Republicans he repudiated.

The self-styled independent Republican who bolted his party to support Gov. Stevenson, sent congratulatory telegrams to the Democratic presidential nominee and to President Truman, but not to Gen. Eisenhower, the GOP President-elect.

Morse, who was an early supporter of Eisenhower, said Ike won the election by "fooling" the people. While refusing to say how he will vote in the new Congress convening in January, he promised to support the Republicans only when they make proposals he considers "good" for the nation.

Noble Campaign

The senator praised Stevenson in his telegram for having conducted what he termed "a noble campaign which made a glorious record in the pages of our country's history."

He also lauded the President for making "a courageous fight. . ."

He added: "It is my judgment that when history comes to appraise your administration it will be recorded that you placed human values and the best interests of your country above selfish, materialistic values.

Record Indelible

"Your record is an indelible one in the history of our country, while that of your detractors will soon fade away and be forgotten."

In signing the telegram, the Oregon senator, who has heretofore not always been on such friendly terms with the President, extended to Mr. Truman his "affectionate regard."

Morse's telegram to Stevenson said:

"I want you to know that I considered it was a great privilege to campaign in your behalf. You conducted a noble campaign which made a glorious record in the pages of our country's history. My best wishes always."

Major John Eisenhower Quiet But Happy Over Father's Win

WITH THE U.S. 3RD DIVISION IN KOREA (INS)—News that his father had been elected President of the United States reached Maj. John Eisenhower over a field phone in Korea.

The 30-year-old son of the President-elect was working over a military report in a drab Army tent in a Korean valley when the phone message came that his father had won the critical state of California and election seemed assured.

The Third Division operations officer said:

'I'm Damned'

"Well I'm damned. I'll be right over to see you all."

Maj. Eisenhower put his work aside and went to his living tent, where, quiet but happy, he heard additional news of his father's victory. He said:

"Every now and then, something clicks and evidently this one did. I am very happy things have gone right."

Then he sat down on an army cot and penned this short telegram to his parents:

Sends Congratulations

"Dear folks:

"My heartfelt congratulations. My thoughts were with you all the way.

"Johnny."

Then the son of the next President of the U.S. broke out refreshments for his tentmates and visitors who crowded in to congratulate him.

He said he certainly will see his father if General Eisenhower comes to Korea as promised during the election campaign, and added:

"I think it's sensible to look at some of the ground directly. When you look at the ground itself and when you look at a map—it's two different things.

"Of course, you must realize a trip to Korea won't work miracles."

Mac 'Delighted' At GOP Victory, But Silent On Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur commented to an aide Wednesday he was "delighted" at the Republican victory but made no direct mention of Republican President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Douglas County Voters Go For Incumbents

OMAHA (AP) — Douglas County voters went down the line for incumbents regardless of party in Tuesday's general election.

The closest races were in the second and third county commissioner districts where the decision was in doubt until morning.

With 224 of 228 precincts counted here was the way the county races looked:

Commissioner George Woodward Jr., (D) led Earl F. Schafer (R) in the Third district; Commissioner Leonard Bergman (R) led Thomas J. Cronin (D) 57,449 to 45,869 in the Fifth district; and Robert Munch, former Omaha police chief was top man in a field of five seeking to fill a vacancy in the Second district, formerly represented by Congressman-elect Roman Hruska. Munch had a total of 29,479. The others: George Tobias Jr., 26,837; Manus Melchiorsen, 9,963; Alfred A. Raneri 17,134; Adolph Kurtz, 10,557.

County Judge Robert R. Troyer led Norman Denen berg 102,164 to 19,146; County Clerk John Slavik (R) led Carroll W. Whited (D) 70,163 to 36,449 and Register of Deeds Thomas J. O'Connor (D) led Raymond Prochaska (R) 58,961 to 47,466.

Public Defender Joseph M. Lovely (D) was unopposed.

Gen. Vaughan To Step Down On Jan. 20

WASHINGTON (INS) — Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, President Truman's military aide and one of the most controversial figures of his administration, announced Wednesday that he will go on the inactive list on Jan. 20.

That is the day Mr. Truman will turn the White House over to Gen. Eisenhower.

Vaughan, who figured prominently in the congressional RFC probe, said he will retire from the Army in 1954.

Record Vote Of 55,150 Cast In Lancaster Republican Sweep

Britt Beats Incumbent Adams In Tight Race For Legislature

Lancaster county voters shattered all previous voting records as 55,150 of them flocked to the polls in the general election Tuesday to give the Republican party a clean sweep in the county.

Howard Britt

After the first five county precincts were counted, there was never any change in the trend. And only several races were close, all of them non-political.

While Howard L. Britt with 5,428 votes beat his incumbent opponent Thomas H. Adams by 599 votes, the 19th legislative district race was a nip and tuck affair until the final precinct was in and counted. Britt was never headed throughout the counting but his margin of victory grew by only a few votes at a time.

Ton Mile Levy

Britt, a Lincoln business man for 30 years, had campaigned on a ton mile levy on trucks as the basis for more highway revenue. Adams has served four terms in the legislature beginning in 1945.

In another close race, Robert Devoe lost out in his bid for district judge. Devoe received 30,977 votes out of the county's 132 precincts. The four successful candidates are Harry A. Spencer, 37,910 votes; John L. Polk, 36,994 votes; Paul White, 33,853 votes, and Harry Ankeny, 33,817 votes.

In the next closest county race, voters switched their party preference and gave Robert Crosby 28,172 votes for governor as compared to 22,874 for Democrat Walter R. Raecke. Two years ago, Raecke beat Gov. Val Peterson in Lancaster county.

The Crosby victory also means a change in the county election boards for the 1954 general election. The boards are split three to two according to the winning party for governor in the last election.

Return To GOP

When Raecke won in 1950, this election's boards were changed to three Democratic and two Republican members. In 1954, the split will return to three Republican and two Democratic members.

Counting boards are split two to two according to party affiliation. Precinct inspectors are not chosen according to party affiliation.

The 55,150 votes cast wipe out the old record vote of 47,336 cast in 1944. The record also means some more juggling of precinct boundaries may come about by the next general state election.

Deputy Election Commissioner Pat Boyles pointed out that in 10 city precincts, the vote exceeded 600. It is a tremendous job, he said, for a board to handle that many votes.

518 of 545

Under the lection laws, a precinct may be split when the total vote exceeds 300. It is recommended that in no precinct shall the vote be left in excess of 900.

In one precinct, 12 C-2 around 60th and Fremont, a record high percentage of votes were cast. There were a total of 555 registrations in the precinct with 10 challenges. Out of the remaining total of 545 eligible voters, 518 went to the polls and another 12 voted by absentee ballot.

The vote will be canvassed beginning Friday. The canvassing board will adjourn Friday, Nov. 14, after a final check of all mail ballots. Mail ballots postmarked no later than midnight, Monday, Nov. 3, will be counted if received in the Office of Election Commission by 10 a.m., Nov. 13.

Discontinuance Of 100 Miles Of Track Sought By U.P.

The "iron horse" that opened up Nebraska's prairies to settlement and to become part of the nation's breadbasket is gradually being dismembered. Tenacles that spread out to all sections of the state are being lopped off one by one.

Wednesday the Union Pacific railroad filed an application with the State Railway Commission to discontinue another hundred miles of their lines. They would discontinue service on the 61 miles from Grand Island to St. Paul and Ord. Also to be dropped would be 39 miles of branch lines from St. Paul to Boelus and Loup City.

Motor truck service is now being given along the lines.

Potato Yield Good On Irrigated Land

ALLIANCE — The late potato harvest in the Nebraska panhandle brought yields better than average on irrigated land and below average on dryland, according to Marx Koehnke, certification manager for the Potato Certification Association of Nebraska.

Koehnke said the hot, dry weather of early summer was a blessing this year because it kept the blight problem under control. Last year's potato harvest was small because of the disease. The small amount of blight this year was kept under control by spraying.

Koehnke said about 5,700 acres of potatoes were certified this year and bin inspection of the crop is under way now. Movement of the Nebraska certified seed potatoes will start to the Gulf states the latter part of this month.

The western Nebraska seed potatoes are shipped mostly to Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama and some also go to Florida, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, and Iowa. In Texas the seed potatoes are planted in December and tested for performance.

The certification program in Nebraska is under the direction of an advisory committee headed by Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Policy Meeting Set For Farm Bureau

Between 60 and 70 county representatives are expected to attend the Preliminary Resolutions Meeting Thursday and Friday in Lincoln to continue formation of the policies of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation for 1953.

The committeee is the body which consolidates the several hundred resolutions submitted by the 60 County Farm Bureau organizations in the state.

Speakers on the program include Harold Aitken, state engineer, who will discuss the work and problems of the state highway department; Ed Hoyt, associate director of the State Department of Agriculture, who will discuss its operations and problems; Dr. F. D. Keim, representing W. V. Lambert, dean of the College of Agriculture, who will discuss the college, and State Sen. Otto Liebers, who will review the proposed watershed legislation.

Air Base Storage Contract To Olson

A contract totaling $1,588,338 to build aircraft refueling and oil storage facilities at the Lincoln Air Force Base was awarded the Olson Construction Co. of Lincoln.

Lt. Col. M. W. Whitsitt, executive officer for the Omaha district, Army Engineers, said work would start next week.

Specifications call for seven masonry pumphouses, 30,000 feet of underground pipe lines, two above ground storage tanks of 30,000 and 35,000 barrel capacity plus 42 underground storage tanks and 13,700 feet of electrical distribution lines.

NEVER BEFORE

Such a TASTY, Energizing Tonic!

AT LAST!

Restore Pep and Energy Pleasantly with Cherry-Tone

When due to lack of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron

New Tonic Discovery with Tempting, Tangy Taste Provides Certain Needed Vitamins and Iron!

What news! At last, a "Pep-Up" tonic that tastes as good as it IS good for you. Not just palatable but R-E-A-L-L-Y mellow—with the entrancing flavor of wild cherries!

If you occasionally feel tired, nervous or run-down due to lack of Vitamin B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron, we ask you to try this pleasant-tasting new tonic. Just 2 tablespoons provide you with the established daily requirements.

Persons who have taken tonics for years—good tonics, too—claim that Cherry-Tone is completely different from anything they've tried. For the first time, they say the "taking" can be as enjoyable as the effect. And they particularly like the fast "Pick-Up" action of Cherry-Tone.

Try just one bottle! Then you'll KNOW what this exciting new tonic can do for you. Only $2 for a full 12-oz. bottle, or the 32-oz. family economy-size for just $4.95!

Right now, at least 1,000 of our friends in this area are trying Cherry-Tone's new invigorating action. Try your first bottle — TODAY!

New Congress Faces Half A Dozen Major Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—The newly chosen Congress faces half a dozen major issues, including a thorough review of the nation's machinery for half-war mobilization.

The next session, beginning Jan. 3, may be stormy and probably will be of fundamental importance.

In addition to major international and military problems, the legislators must decide whether to continue the present high tax rates and what to do about wage and price controls.

They probably will consider changes in the controversial Taft-Hartley Act. The Senate may argue about altering its rules to allow civil rights legislation.

Congressional investigations are likely to be stepped up, with heavy emphasis on uncovering waste in military expenditures and exporing Communist activity. A new probe of tax-free institutions is expected to begin next year.

The entire House and a third of the Senate will come back with fresh support from the polls. Holdovers will consider re-election an endorsement of their previous policies. Newcomers will push their own ideas.

These are the main issues before the 83rd Congress:

Military expenditures—The administration last March requested 51 billion dollars which was cut to $56,600,000,000 for one year's rearmament. Pentagon officials are talking now of asking between 41 and 46 billion for next year. Congress is expected to contend, as in the past, that the buildup can be accomplished more economically. Two House and two Senate committees are due to continue exploring alleged waste and to insist on administrative changes.

Foreign assistance — Congress reduced President Truman's foreign aid program for this year from $7,900,000,000 to $6,031,000,000. Officials say the new budget will approximate the 1952 requests.

Taxes—All major tax increases voted in 1951 to help finance defense will expire by law in 1953 and 1954. These include the boost of 11 per cent and more in personal income taxes, now effective until Dec. 31, 1953. The 83rd Congress must take action if these increased rates are to remain in effect.

Price Controls — Wage, price and rent controls are on the books until April 30, 1953, and the rest of the Defense Production Act, including the allocation of strategic materials, until June 30.

To District Convention

Three University of Nebraska undergraduates and a faculty member will represent the Lincoln chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business administration fraternity, at the district convention for five midwestern states.

Attending the Boulder, Colo., meeting on Nov. 7-8 will be Val McCurdy, Tobias; Roger Noble, Red Cloud; Ken Meissinger, Louisville; and Prof. E. B. Schmidt, of the University business administration college.

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). "It can be a matter of life and death when we get a call," says H. R. Weir. "That means our ambulance engines must be in tip-top condition . . . they've got to stand up! So when I got the story of 50,000 Miles—No Wear, I changed over to Conoco Super Motor Oil right away!"

Change Now—For Summertime Performance All Winter! Protect your engine from winter's rasping wear. Change to new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING. Get quick starts, fast pickup, better performance all winter.

Proof of 50,000 Miles—No Wear! After a punishing 50,000 mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Factory finishing marks were still visible on piston rings! Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

"Most of our ambulances have gone over 50,000 miles since then. That's why I know . . . 50,000 Miles—No Wear has sure been true for us! Thanks to Conoco Super, our ambulances are always ready to go—in any emergency!"

Chest-Red Cross Drive Reaches $449,980—4 Pct. Under Goal

The united Community Chest-Red Cross campaign fund totaled $449,980—or 96 per cent of the goal—Wednesday following a report luncheon held at the Chamber of Commerce.

Divisional reports Wednesday brought in a total of $10,901 to the fund.

A summary of the divisional reports Wednesday is as follows:

Advance Gifts (Division "A"), John F. Lawlor, leader, $1,310 or a total of $235,651 towards its goal of $233,826.00.

Employees Classified (Division C)—John M. Spray, leader, $9,459 or a total of $202,706 towards a goal of $223,028.00

Women's Division (Division "W")—Mrs. W. Avon Fraser, leader, $132 or a total of $11,173 toward the goal of $10,798.00.

Striking Distance

Walter S. Henrion, General Chairman of the Campaign, told the workers at the report luncheon that the campaign was within striking distance of the goal and urged the workers to stay with it a little longer.

The campaign has already exceeded the number of contributors as compared to last year. Last year there were a total of 28,315 whereas this year 28,598 had been reported. Henrion predicted that there would be at least a couple of thousand more contributors before the goal was reached.

The campaign leaders agreed to continue their work until the over-all goal was reached and would report again on Monday, Nov. 10, to bring in the balance.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Maurice W. Helmann, editor of The Register, delivered the invocation.

Additional reports of $100 or more reported Wednesday by John F. Lawlor for the Advanced Gifts section are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sias	$100.00
Walgreen's Drug Co.	255.00
Watson-Brickson Lumber Co.	100.00
Dr. F. S. Webster	100.00

NU Cosmopolitan Club Plans Annual Banquet

The Cosmopolitan Club of the University of Nebraska will hold its annual Chancellor's Banquet Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln Hotel.

Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, Dr. George W. Rosenlof and Dr. Floyd W. Hoover will be guests of honor. Entertainment will include songs and dances by students from Latvia, Iran and India. A dance will follow the dinner. Charlene J. Colbert, publicity chairman of the club, said all students and faculty members were invited.

Mrs. Fred Gunther, Native Of Ashland, Dies In Missouri

Mrs. Fred Gunther, wife of a former Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power Co., official here, died Tuesday at her home in Kansas City, Mo.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Marcy's Funeral Home at Ashland. Burial will be Ashland.

Born at Ashland, Mrs. Gunther and her husband lived in Lincoln for nearly 20 years.

Survivors include her husband and a son, Robert of Kansas City, Mo.

Walter Deurmyer Graveside Services To Be Held Friday

Graveside services for Walter Deurmeyer, 57, former Lincolnite who died Tuesday in Topeka, Kan., will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at Calvary Cemetery, Msgr L. V. Barnes officiating.

Services will also be held at 9 p.m., Friday at the Church of Assumption at Topeka.

Born here, Deurmeyer attended school in Lincoln and moved to Topeka where he operated a dental laboratory.

Survivors include his wife, Nola; five sons, Donald and Jack of Los Angeles, Wayne, Robert and Richard of Eugene, Ore.; a brother, Joe of Topeka; three sisters, Mrs. Harry Birkett, Mrs. A. M. Malone and Mrs. Ralph Scott, all of Lincoln; and four grandchildren.

Man Found Dead In Car Wreckage

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—Rick W. Thompson, 22, of Lexington, was found dead under his overturned automobile about three miles south of Perry, Neb., six miles west of here Wednesday.

Red Willow County Sheriff Emmett Trosper estimated that Thompson was killed about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday when his car hit the shoulder of the road, left the highway and overturned. He was thrown from the car and it rolled onto him, the sheriff said.

Thompson was employed as a foreman at the Marvin Hoyt farm about 10 miles from McCook.

His death was the 289th in Nebraska this year. A year ago the total was 276.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

I can't say my barber is surprised by the result . . . matter of fact he can't say it either. He can't talk.

* * *

He called me yesterday at 10 o'clock and said, "How is it going on your set?" I said, "Why?" He said, "I think my channel is kidding me."

* * *

We tried to tell him that all channels were covering the same election . . . He said, "Maybe they should have waited until all those new channels were open."

* * *

This is the first time so many people saw an election on television and one of the youngsters said, "Gee, it must have been slow in the days they sent out the pictures on postcards."

* * *

But the best announcement that came up was the one reading, "Tune in tomorrow night for regular programming."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

V X B G N E P X N Y A B R U X O A U M R R M Q B H X B I—Q X B E A X B X O A Q O R G B H F B U M I B —P M R H A Y N V X.

Stocks Up Slightly; Early Surge Spent

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market was able to maintain a moderate advance Wednesday after a post-election buying surge spent itself.

The rise was modified considerably by the acute declines in a handful of key railroad stocks in the last hour of trading.

Volume built up to the highest figure since Oct. 23, 1951 with 2,030,000 shares. Monday's volume was 1,670,000.

A broad look at the market showed advances scored by motors, steels, oils, distillers, and many chemicals and non-ferrous metals. On the downside as a group were railroads, aircrafts, and utilities by a shade.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 cents at $106.20. The industrial component of the average was up 70 cents, but the railroads were down $1.20, and utilities were down 10 cents.

The list was composed of 1,176 individual issues of which 577 advanced and 330 declines, a clear indication of the upside nature of market.

First hour volume hit 820,000 shares, largest for the first hour in nearly two years. The fourth hour was the smallest with only 160,000 shares changing hands.

The curb exchange lost a lot of its early bullish enthusiasm and maintained a bare upside margin at the close. Trading amounted to 530,000 shares as compared with 440,000 share traded Monday.

Grains End Lower; Demand Is Lacking

CHICAGO (AP) —Grains ended lower on the Board of Trade Wednesday in a market mainly characterized by a lack of demand. Soybeans reacted most to mild selling pressure while the feed grains held up best.

The market got off to a firm start on buying which brokers attributed to a sympathetic move with an early bulge in stocks at New York. However, advances in grains never were large and a downward drift set in almost immediately after the start.

Wheat closed ¼-1⅛ lower, corn ⅛-½ lower, oats ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, rye 1⅜ to 2 cents lower, soybeans 1⅝-2½ lower, and lard 17 cents lower to 18 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Brokers weren't too sure of what effect the election result would have on the grain market. First impression was that the affect would be neither. Several brokers said there was not much, if any, difference in the announced farm policies of the Republican and Democratic candidates.

Later, when the market declined, some brokers opined the election might be construed as slightly bearish on prices. They said General Eisenhower's contemplated trip to Korea would bring the possibility of ending the war to the forefront of trade attention. They also felt government fiscal policies might be less inflationary.

Wheat was reported as deteriorating rapidly in Nebraska while in Oklahoma, according to the regular weekly weather bureau report, only one-half the intended acreage has been seeded. It added that the secondary root system of Kansas wheat is not developing and the topsoil is loose and vulnurable to damage by winds.

The country appeared to be offering cash corn more freely with reported bookings amounting to 126,000 bushels. A good demand developed for cash corn with prices steady.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR CONFIDENCE!
Nothing succeeds like sincere, honest dealing. For 48 years we have featured our "honor system" Used Cars . . . a wide selection, priced fairly. Easy terms, too. You'll like the friendly service at SIDLES—and these values:

1946 Pontiac Sedan Coupe. Original black finish. Like new. Practically brand new tires-life guard tubes. This one you must see and drive to appreciate.

1951 Buick Special 2-Door. Radio. Heater. Dynaflow. Finish. A nice little one owner car.

all values galore, and many more.

Lopsided Sweep By Republicans In Nebraska Is Termed 'History Making'

By ODELL HANSON

OMAHA (AP)—Nebraska Democrats licked their wounds and Republicans joined in happy post-mortems Wednesday night after a general election that'll go down in state history for the lopsided proportions of the GOP sweep.

Vote counters were moping up a few scattered precincts but it was only a gesture. The pattern was established a bare hour or two after the polls closed Tuesday night.

Additional figures Wednesday only served to measure the scope of the Republican triumph.

Some Questions

Fog still hung over the outcome of a few Legislative contests. And the outcome of the six constitutional amendments was still hazed in technicalities, although at least three of them appeared to have made the grade.

The amendments apparently winning approval were to create a state board of education, to permit the Legislature to change the system of taxing motor vehicles, and to reduce the number of times a constitutional amendment needs to be published.

All six of the proposed amendments apaprently won affirmative margins. But the joker in the deck was the requirement that affirmative votes amount to 35 per cent of the total votes cast.

At least one of the amendments, to increase the pay of state legislators from $872.09 a year to $1,250 a year, appeared doomed by this requirement.

In Doubt

In doubt were amendments to alter the system of effecting pay changes for a court, board of commission, and to make it easier to call constitutional conventions.

But there was no doubt about the partisan contests for public office, as Republicans scored their seventh straight down-the-line Statehouse victory and retained top-to-bottom control of two senatorial and four congressional seats.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower captured the state's six electoral votes with a decisiveness bettered only once in the state's history.

Not since Ulysses S. Grant copped nearly 71 per cent of the votes cast in a two-way race in 1872 has a presidential candidate done better than did Eisenhower with a better than two to one victory over Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

68 Per Cent

Eisenhower's percentage of votes cast in the race was about 68. That compares with 54 for Thomas E. Dewey in 1948, 59 for Dewey in 1944, and 57 for the late Wendell Willkie in 1940.

Rep. A. L. Miller set the pace in garnering about 74 per cent of the votes cast in the Fourth District congressional race. The 60-year-old Kimball physician never ran better than he did in winning his sixth straight term. His best previous showing was in 1946 against Stanley D. Long, the Grand Island druggist and Democrat. His mark that time was 71 per cent.

Rep. Carl T. Curtis and Rep. Robert D. Harrison also passed the 70 per cent mark in winning re-election.

And Sen. Hugh Butler took no back seat in winning a third straight six-year term in the upper chamber. He polled about 69 per cent of the votes cast in a three-way race, and was a better than 7-3 choice over Stanley Long, his nearest opponent. Dwight. Dell, Beatrice farmer running as a petition candidate, was strictly an also-ran.

On the state ticket, the only candidate entering the magic 70 per cent circle was Ray C. Johnson, who won his eighth straight term as state auditor. He's habitually a front runner on the state ticket and his Democratic opponent, 72-year-old Gustav F. Beschorner of Lincoln, couldn't turn the tide.

The congressional race in the Second District, which includes Omaha and its sizable bloc of Democrats, went to Republican Roman Hurska, Omaha attorney, by a 56 to 44 percentage count. Democrats had entrusted some of their best hopes for victory in Hruska's Democratic opponent, James Hart of Omaha.

Dwight Griswold, in winning a two-year U. S. Senatorial term, became the first governor in Nebraska history to move up to the Senate—and several have tried it.

Bevan Faces Defeat

LONDON (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, leftist firebrand of British socialism, Wednesday challenged moderate Herbert Morrison for the Labor Party's No. 2 job of deputy leader.
